Dulles Seeks Ideas

Some HST Aides Called To Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles called in some Truman administration people Wednesday in his search for new ideas on how to draw the free world closer together to meet Russia's military-scientific challenge.

In an unprecedented move, he met for two hours and 10 minutes at the State Department with seven former officials who served under President Truman. The men included ex-Army Secretary Frank Pace and Paul H. Nitze, the State Department's chief policy planner when Dean Acheson was secretary of state.

Conspicuously absent, however, were Acheson and George Kennan, former ambassador to Moscow as well as policy planner. Both have been slightly critical of Eisenhower administration foreign policy.

Wednesday's gathering reflected the urgency Dulles is said to feel about the need for quick new moves to tie the 15 north Atlantic pact nations closer together.

Views Sought

The State Department said after the session that Dulles "sought their views" on ways to give solid form to the principles President Eisenhower and Britain Prime Minister Macmillan laid down after their conference last month.

Eisenhower and Macmillan called on free world nations to mobilize their resources into an "interdependent community" to guard the security of their peoples in the face of Russia's threats.

Dulles was flanked Wednesday by six top State Department and White House officials, including disarmament specialist Harold Stassen, Deputy Under Secretary Robert Murphy and Asst. Secretaries C. Burk Elbrick and Girard Smith.

Nitze said after the meeting the get-together was a "one shot" affair with no plans for them to return for further consultation. All declined to discuss suggestions and proposals made.

The visitors who met with Dulles also included: William H. Draper Jr., former Army under secretary and special ambassador to Europe in 1952-53: Nelson A. Rockefeller, former assistant secretary of state and also special assistant to President Eisenhower in 1954-55; George Perkins, former assistant secretary of state and permanent representative to the NATO council; Charles M. Spofford, deputy Atlantic pact representative in 1950-52 and John C. Hughes, foreign policy adviser and North Atlantic area representative in 1953-55.

Bi-Partisan Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday invited Congressional leaders of both parties to an expanded legislative conference at the White House on Dec. 3.

Invitations were issued to top Democratic and Republican leaders and the senior members of key committees in both Senate and House.

These annual, bipartisan gatherings in past years have centered on national security and foreign policy. This time, the makeup of the conference pointed to the possibility that it may also go into the government's financial and tax problems and perhaps the legal limit on the federal debt.

But Mrs. Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, said no formal agenda had been set up as yet and she was unable to say just what ground the sessions will cover. But at another point, she said the meeting will cover the gamut from A to Z in legislation.

. . . Who Saw 'Space Ship'

Schmidt Sticks To Space Ship Story

Agrees To Psychiatric Exam As Skepticism Mounts

By BILL HINEL
Star Staff Writer

KEARNEY, Neb. — California businessman Reinhold O. Schmidt late Wednesday stuck steadfastly to his original "space ship tour" story amid mounting skepticism among authorities, although a Kearney farmer's report gave support to the mysterious account.

Schmidt has agreed, officials reported, to an examination by two psychiatrists from the Nebraska State Hospital at Hastings and has expressed a willingness to stay in Kearney as long as needed.

Schmidt Wednesday told special investigators for the Air Defense Command from Colorado Springs, Colo., about details of his Tuesday afternoon encounter with a strange space ship and its occupants he found grounded near the Platte River about two miles southeast of Kearney.

Wednesday afternoon, Duane Nickel, about 30, a farmer near the site of the "space ship landing," reported he was driving along the road Tuesday afternoon near his farm when his truck motor suddenly stopped. Nickel said the motor would not restart, and he was forced to call a serviceman who had to repair the truck's electrical system.

The motor stopped about the same time as the "landing" was reported.

At a press conference Wednesday night, Buffalo County Attorney Kenneth Gotobed said Schmidt was not being held technically, but when told that authorities would like to talk to him further had agreed to remain in "protective custody."

The county attorney said Schmidt was not being kept from anyone, but that he had said he did not want to see anyone or be interviewed further and his wishes were being honored.

County Attorney Kenneth Gotobed, asked if Schmidt would be charged in the event his story is proven false, said he knew of no basis for a local charge.

In answer to questions, officials said that no definite conclusion has been reached as to the accuracy of Schmidt's report; that oil found at the scene was being analyzed at the University of Nebraska and a report was expected

'Saucers' Officially Snubbed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said Wednesday night it has found no evidence of flying saucers of any type in the past 10 years although it has investigated 5,700 reported sightings.

Point by point, the Air Force rejected any idea that there are flying saucers. It said:

1. "There is no physical or material evidence, not even a minute fragment, that a so called flying saucer was ever found."

2. There is no evidence that these unknown objects are interplanetary space ships.

3. There is no evidence that they represent technological developments outside the range of our everyday scientific knowledge.

4. There is no evidence of unknown hostile objects or of any threat to the security of the country because of them.

Flying saucer sightings have been reported at various times over the last ten years. The job of looking into them was handed over to the Air Technical Intelligence Center at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, Ohio. Reports issued at various times have been similar to the one issued Wednesday night.

The Pentagon issued the new report as a result of a new flood of reports of unknown objects, including strange lights which reportedly made auto engines stop or put out the lights of the cars.

RAIN, SNOW COLDER SEEN FOR TODAY

Rain, snow and colder temperatures are expected to move across Nebraska Thursday and Friday in the wake of a new cold front forming in Colorado.

Weather Bureau officials predicted snow or rain in the east and snow in the central part of the state Thursday. Light snow in the west and rain in the east was seen for Thursday night.

Colder air was to hit the west and central areas Thursday night and the east and south Friday. The Thursday highs were to be in the 40s and then drop sharply as the front moved in.

Chadron reported the state high Wednesday of 57, with other western points registering temperatures in the 50s. Wednesday lows dropped to 25 at Scottsbluff, Sidney and Omaha. Lincoln and Chadron reported 28-degree lows.

—Loss, Profit Economy—

Penalty Seen For Inflation

Reserve Board Official Gives No Hint Of Tight Money Easing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board Wednesday suggested that the country must pay the conomic penalty for "letting inflation get ahead of us."

Martin gave no hint, in a speech to the American Finance Conference, Inc., that the Federal Reserve Board is easing the "tight money" policy despite forecasts of a slight business downturn.

"When there is waste, extravagance, incompetence and inefficiency," he said, "the only way to eliminate them in a free society is by taking losses from time to time. . .

"This is a loss economy as well as a profit economy.

"I have little faith that the government can be smart enough or wise enough to prevent declines that have to occur from time to time when mistakes in judgment have been made.

"I am not making any business forecasts—I'm just talking about the principles involved."

Forecast

The audience got a forecast—a fairly reassuring one—from Dr. Gabriel Hauge, special assistant to President Eisenhower on economic affairs. Hauge told the 800 executives of sales finance companies that the basic growth forces in the economy remain strong.

Hauge predicted there will be no "sharp change in any direction." He denied what he said were rumors "circulated in certain quarters" that the administration believes "a little depression right now would be a good thing."

"I want to label that for what it is: Pure bunk," Hauge declared. He went on:

"Nor does this administration believe that a little inflation is either a good or necessary thing; our economy does not need to run a slight temperature to keep healthy."

Some Level

Some business indicators point up, some down and some level, Hauge reported; but these "cross currents" which have replaced the long upsurge of business "should not be surprising—in an economy like ours the pace of growth is never completely even."

Martin reminded his hearers that more than 10 billion dollars of recent growth in the value of national output represents price inflation rather than rising production.

"I'm not blaming anybody, but inflation got ahead of us," Martin said.

"It should take little thought to recognize that some adjustment must occur . . .

"The Federal Reserve Board recognizes the hazards of both inflation and deflation—and they are connected—and we are going to do all in our power to resist both.

But if you think there is any magic in the federal reserve system by which—if business declines a little bit—we can just step in and stop it, you are terribly mistaken."

Telescopes Fixed On Real Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Russians shoot the moon this week, you can expect to see pictures of the historic event in the newspapers within a few hours.

Unless, of course, the rocket goofs and lands on the dark side of the moon. Scientists say that could happen.

Nobody in the West knows whether the Soviets are attempting an immediate rocket hit on the moon. But they've been saying they can do it, and Thursday's 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution would be an appropriate time.

So sky-watchers around the world were keeping their telescopic eyes fixed on the moon Wednesday night—just in case.

At the naval observatory here, for instance, astronomers are keeping the earth's original satellite under close scrutiny. And cameras are attached to their telescopes, ready to photograph anything that may happen.

Large Numbers

This is not too unusual. The Navy sky-searchers have been paying special attention to the moon for months as part of a project in connection with the International Geophysical Year.

"We're not just looking to see if a red star suddenly blossoms on the moon," says Cmdr. W. M. Robinson, acting superintendent of the observatory, "but if anything hits the moon we expect to see it."

FORMER LINCOLNITES CHOSEN

EX-LINCOLNITES NATIONAL '58 POLIO 'POSTER FAMILY'

The National March of Dimes, which has selected a "poster child" annually throughout its 20-year history, has chosen former Lincoln residents as a "poster family" for 1958.

Members of the family, stricken while they were visiting in Lincoln in July, 1954, are Mrs. Joseph L. Solomon and her children, Joseph Allen, now 9, and Sandra Sue and Linda Lou, 6-year-old twins.

Mrs. Solomon is the former Helen Weigandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wiegandt, 4045 A, Lincoln.

She and the children lived in Lincoln for a year until September, 1957, while her husband, an Air Force major, was stationed in Korea.

Then the family moved to Georgia, where Maj. Solomon is commander of the 1926th Airways and Air Communications Service Squadron at Robins Air Force Base.

When polio struck the entire family except Maj. Solomon, Joe was completely paralyzed. He still wears a full right leg brace, body brace and head traction.

Sandra Sue wears a body corset and full left and half right leg braces. Both she and Joe use crutches.

Linda Lou and Mrs. Solomon were less seriously ill and were not hospitalized, although Linda has some back weakness and slight spine curvature which apparently resulted from the polio attack.

Physicians say Joe and Sandra, who receive daily physical therapy, will need surgery when they are 12.

Polio Foundation President Basil O'Connor, announcing the selection of the "poster family," noted that the Solomons were stricken when there was no Salk vaccine.

And thousands of dollars still will be needed, he said, "for the operations and rehabilitation techniques necessary if Joe and Sandy are to live normal, productive lives."

Joe's ambition is to become an Air Force pilot and Sandra wants to be a ballerina, while Linda would like to become a secretary.

Baby Found In Milford Police Chief's Garage

. . . Healthy Newborn Unidentified

Lincoln Star Special

MILFORD, Neb.—An unidentified, newborn healthy baby girl was found Wednesday morning by Milford Police Chief Mel Hickman in his garage.

The baby, wrapped in flannel, had been placed in a cardboard carton on the floor of the garage, Chief Hickman said.

The police chief immediately took the infant, weighing about seven pounds, to a Milford physician. The baby was said in good condition, and its lungs clear.

Mrs. Ray Welch of Seward, wife of the Seward County sheriff, went to Milford later in the day to pick up the infant and will keep her until county authorities contact state welfare officers. Sheriff Welch said the baby will undoubtedly eventually be placed in a state orphange.

The chief said she would have to have been left in the garage between 8:30 and 11 a.m.

The carton holding the baby bore a Brighton, Colo., marking.

Auto-Train Crash Kills 6 Persons

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Five women and a boy were ground to death Wednesday night as a New York Central passenger train crushed an automobile at a crossing on the St. Joseph-La Porte County line.

The victims were natives of the New Carlise-Hudson Lake area. Victims were:

Jean Vandenberg, 39, thought by state police to be the driver; Mrs. Irene Williams and her daughter Mary Ann, 17; Mrs. Aleen Spencer, 50, and her son Michael, 11; Mrs. Pauline Barker, 52.

The car was struck in La Porte County and knocked into St. Joseph County.

Police said the driver apparently had stopped at the double-line track to let a westbound freight train pass and then started up into the path of the eastbound passenger train.

The car was dragged 150 feet, and the bodies were mangled and scattered. One body was found 25 feet away from the car.

Laika Is Real Shook

Red Moonlet Tumbling End Over End

18,000 MPH CLIP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sputnik II was sighted all across the country Wednesday, giving scientists the information needed for an accurate fix of its orbit around the earth.

The Soviet satellite appeared to be tumbling end over end in its furious flight at nearly 18,000 miles an hour. This renewed speculation about the fate of Laika, the little Russian dog harnessed inside.

A late report from Moscow, based on radio signals received from the satellite, said Laika was still alive and in "satisfactory" condition. At that time Sputnik II had been up for about four days. Soviet scientists indicated several days ago that eccentric movements of the satellite might in time cost the dog's life.

Brightness Changes

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass.,

LAIKA
. . . getting a dizzy ride

said the tumbling is indicated by the many reports on the changing brightness of the satellite. Observers said sometimes it was as bright as the planet Jupiter and at other times looked like a relatively faint star.

These changes, Whipple explained, would be caused by seeing the satellite broadside and then endwise as it tumbles through space.

Preparations were under way for a senate investigation of this country's lagging pace in the field of satellites and missiles, and Chairman Dawson (D-Ill) of the House Government Operations Committee said he was considering a similar investigation by his group.

Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) entered the debate in this country, saying the best way to halt the threat of Russian aggression is for the United States to demonstrate to the world "that we are ready to negotiate peace."

"What we need," he continued in a statement, "is leadership . . . that recognizes that the time is overdue for a de-emphasis of foreign policy by way of military threat . . ."

President Eisenhower is to make a major TV and radio address to the nation Thursday a 7 p.m. (CST) on science and security. The White House indicated the President did not have any surprises to spring in the way of new scientific progress by this country.

China Next

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said Red China may be coming up one of these days with an announcement of some major advance in nuclear science.

Gore is just back from a tour of Russia where he saw Chinese and other students at work in scientific research.

City Labor Dinner Hears Issue 'Laid On Line'

By NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writer

The Rev. Austin Miller, S. J., dean of men at Creighton University, "laid the issue on the line" at the third annual banquet of organized labor Wednesday night in Lincoln, analyzing recent labor union strife before the audience of 425 Lincoln union members.

Calling the AFL-CIO "the greatest secular institution in the United States", Father Miller said "the case of labor calls for a collective reappraisal."

"If the diagnosis shows a virus or cancer within the movement and medicine has been tried and failed to cure it, then surgery is needed," he told the union members. "Labor's troubles may be a disease, but not an epidemic, much less a pandemic."

Must Not Be Blind

"We must not be blind to our own shortcomings," he said, "and the case of labor cannot rest without an earnest examination of our function both internally and externally."

The labor movement has occasionally been betrayed by false prophets and sold for a few pieces of silver, he said, "but the flock will not be fleeced of the mantle of its decency."

"We must remember," he stressed, "that the recent happenings in the labor movement are only a short paragraph in a lengthy story of greatness and heroism."

Anti-Toxins And Scalpels

"There are still leaders who are ready to administer the anti-toxins to cure labor's ills," he said, "and they are ready to use the scalpel of excision if necessary."

Phil Allen, Omaha TV newscaster, acted as master of ceremonies at the Wednesday dinner meeting. Mayor Bennett S. Martin and A. C. Eichberg, representing Gov. Victor Anderson, also spoke briefly to the labor representatives.

The dinner was sponsored by the Lincoln Central Labor Union, affiliate of the AFL-CIO.

Election Victories Cheer Democrats

GOP IS PLAINLY WORRIED

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Decisive victories in off-year elections cheered the Democrats today. The results left Republicans concerned over their party prospects in the 1958 fight for control of Congress.

Although there were no party overturns in significant state and municipal contests held Tuesday, the Democrats won by sweeping majorities in retaining the New Jersey and Virginia governorships and the New York City mayoralty.

They gained some mayors' seats from the GOP in upstate New York and Pennsylvania.

Republicans found some consolation in holding on to two House seats in GOP strongholds in New Jersey and Pennsylvania formerly held by their party. They also upset a couple of Democratic city administrations in Connecticut.

Negro Vote No Help To GOP

Political observers found little indication that the Negro vote had helped Republican candidates to any extent in Northern races as a result of President Eisenhower's use of federal troops to enforce court-ordered integration of Little Rock's Central High School.

The White House issued a statement saying the election results made it clear that the GOP and its candidates "have a fight on their hands" if they are to win in 1958, when governors, 32 senators and 435 representatives will be elected. Democrats now control both Houses of Congress and 29 of the 48 governorships.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said the returns showed the voters "are returning to the Democratic party for leadership in a time of crisis." And even Forbes' campaign manager said he thought Russia's launching of two satellites played a part in the New Jersey result.

Butler said Eisenhower had put his prestige to a test in New Jersey by strongly backing Forbes, and the GOP in other ways had invited this and other battles—and had lost them.

Returns By States

Here is a brief roundup of the more important returns:

NEW JERSEY—Gov. Meyner (D) won a second term by around 200,000 plurality. Democrats also captured control of the State Assembly for the first time in 20 years. Results in five scattered Negro voting areas that Meyner carried showed he bettered his 1953 performance in four of them.

Republicans held on to a U.S. House seat in the 2nd District, where a vacancy was filled.

VIRGINIA—Democrat J. Lindsay Almond, former attorney general, swamped Republican Ted Dalton for the governorship and carried his slate with him. Dalton polled less than 37 per cent of the vote against his 45 per cent four years ago.

Almond opposed any race-mixing at all in the state's public schools. Dalton favored token integration under a local option plan.

NEW YORK—Mayor Wagner rolled up a landslide re-election victory, capturing all five of New York City's boroughs and running particularly well in Manhattan's predominantly Negro Harlem section. In normally Republican upstate New York, Democrats made a net gain of five mayors and a Liberal took a sixth city hall from the GOP.

PENNSYLVANIA — Republicans retained a House seat in their Montgomery county stronghold near Philadelphia. Democrats re-elected mayors in Pittsburgh and Scranton for unprecedented fourth terms.

CONNECTICUT — Democratic mayors were ousted by Republicans in Stamford and Waterbury and by an independent in Norwalk. A Democrat turned back veteran Socialist Mayor Jasper McLevy, seeking his 13th term in Bridgeport.

ARKANSAS—A slate of candidates who remained publicly neutral on the racial issue won six of seven Little Rock city director positions over segregationist opponents.

KENTUCKY—State Legislature results strengthened the hand of Democratic Gov. A. B. Chandler in his efforts to control next year's legislative session.

FLAMES ENVELOP CURLO HOME . . . at height of blaze.

Flames Destroy Home At Ashton; Nothing Saved

Lincoln Star Special

ASHTON, Neb.—A blaze completely destroyed the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Curlo of Ashton. The fire is believed to have started in a water heater in the kitchen.

Mrs. Curlo discovered the fire upon returning from the Curlo's business establishment downtown. Only a small blaze was burning when she called the fire department.

When the firemen arrived they tried three close-by hydrants before they were able to get water. Because of a leak in the main the water commissioner had shut the water off and the fire department had not been notified. The hydrant finally used was three blocks away.

In the meantime firemen used chemicals to fight the flames. At one time the fire was almost under control when the supply of chemicals was exhausted and water had still not been secured.

Texas Rains Halt, Flooding Threat Holds

CHICAGO (INS)—Heavy rains in northeast Texas ended Wednesday but there still is danger of floods.

While fair weather covered most of the nation east of the Mississippi River, the upper Sulphur River in northeast Texas has climbed to a record stage of nearly 46 feet at Hagansport.

Flooding is expected downstream at Naples, Tex., with flood stage to be topped by eight to 10 feet on Saturday or Sunday. Some eight inches of rainfall since Monday sent the Dallas total since the first of the year to 50.80 inches, a record high for any year in the history of the Dallas Weather Bureau.

Patches of drizzle and rain extended through the western Gulf states and southern Plains into the southern and central Rockies.

Action Asked

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Styles Bridges called for immediate action on a three-point missile program which would include making American short-range missiles available to trained forces in the NATO and Baghdad Pact areas.

U.S. 'Moon' Is Likely To Be Bubble

...Rep. Magnuson Says

WASHINGTON (INS)—Rep. Magnuson (D-Wash) asserted Wednesday there "strong indications" that the U.S. satellite "will turn out to be just a bubble blowing up in the faces of the American people" if an attempt is made to launch it in March as scheduled.

Magnuson, a House Appropriations Committee member, said his "personal investigation" shows the Vanguard satellite project is behind schedule and that there is "so little time" to catch up, the chance of a successful launching in March "might be only one in 100."

He called the launching schedule "little more than a prayer and a dream" and demanded a double-barreled effort to speed and strengthen the satellite program.

City Need Not Put Up Interstate Funds

9th, 10th Feeder Connections To Be Paid Out Of 7-Cent Gas Tax

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln won't have to provide $450,000 matching funds for the 9th and 10th feeder connections with the new interstate highway, State Engineer L. N. Ress has informed city officials.

And, Mayor Bennett S. Martin said Wednesday he would like the money used for immediate processing K and L as one-way streets.

City officials meeting with Ress were informally told that Lincoln would be relieved of responsibility for interstate feeder connections within the city limits because the seven-cent gas tax is remaining in effect.

Martin said Ress will officially notify the city "within the next few days."

Official Soon

Mayor Martin and Councilmen Al DuTeau and C. W. D. Kinsey had conferred with Ress concerning the city's year-old commitment for $450,000 on the proposed $6 million feeder connections on a 90-10 matching basis.

Martin said the city could now revamp its street allocations and urged immediate processing of K and L as a one-way pair.

The proposed improvement would probably be tackled as a two-part operation, Martin said.

First part would be the widening and repaving of K and L from 21st to 16th. The second would be K and L from 16th to 9th.

'No Estimate Yet'

Martin said he has "no estimate as yet" on the cost of the one-way pair improvement, but explained City Engineer Carl Fisher would begin preliminary plans for early submission to the state engineer's office.

Fisher last August had estimated the cost of widening and repaving the streets into a one-way pair as about $900,000.

Martin said that most of the improvement could be constructed on a 50-50 matching basis with federal funds.

Federal aid urban highway funds allocated to cities Wednesday on the basis of population included $464,658 in matching funds for Lincoln for fiscal 1958 and 1959.

$607,917 Unspent

Lincoln also has $607,917 in unspent federal aid previously allocated.

City officials had made plans to raise $450,000 to obtain $6 million in federal for the 9th and 10th street connections.

The city's money would have come from its share of gas tax and registration fee funds which amounts to about $400,000 annually.

The 9th and 10th one-way pair had been approved by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads as connections for the new interstate highway.

Sput II Signals Are Analyzed

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Air Force said Wednesday it has been comparing Sputnik II's radio signals, but has not been able to identify a code or draw any positive conclusions.

The air research and development command issued this statement:

"As a matter of routine interest, the Air Force Missile Development Center at Alamogordo, N.M. (Holloman AFB) has been comparing the signals being transmitted by Sputnik II with the telemetry signals used by Air Force scientists in upper air research with animals. No code has been identified or "broken," and no positive conclusions has been reached in the comparison of the Russian telemetry with our own."

UAW Union 'Innocent' Of Law Violation

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union was found innocent by a federal court jury Wednesday of violating the Corrupt Practices Act by sponsoring a series of television programs before the 1954 election.

A jury of 10 women and two men deliberated nearly two hours before Alfred Ball, jury foreman and a laborer for the Great Lakes Steel Corp., announced the innocent verdict.

The case was seen as a test of the constitutionality of the Corrupt Practices Act which forbids unions as well as some financial institutions from engaging in political activity.

The UAW challenged the constitutionality of the law. However, Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, who presided, said the constitutionality would not now be decided by his court because the innocent verdict ruled out an appeal by the union.

Due Money

The trial began a week ago.

The government charged that the giant union used the dues money of members to sponsor political television programs designed to influence the elections. Democratic candidates for state office were featured on the telecasts.

The UAW contended the programs were intended to keep members of the union informed on current events.

SMITH COLLEGE GIRL ENDS LIFE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (INS)—A pretty 18-year-old Smith College freshman from Chicago committed suicide Wednesday by hanging from a tree, according to college authorities.

The body of Miss Deborah Jean Coolidge, daughter of Winthrop J. Coolidge, president of the Copper & Chemical Co., and Mrs. Coolidge of Chicago, was discovered in a wooded section near the college infirmary.

Miss Coolidge had been reported missing from her dormitory Tuesday evening. She had been depressed.

Miss Coolidge, a graduate of Chicago Latin School, had been in poor health and had consulted the college physician.

A note found near the body was sent sealed to the parents.

CPPD Ft. Randall Line Hearing Nov. 19

Rival Plan To Be Heard Next Tuesday

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska State Railway Commission has set Nov. 19 as the hearing date on the application of Consumers Public Power District for authority to construct a 230 kv heavy-duty transmission line from the Nebraska-South Dakota border to a point three miles from Lincoln.

An application by the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Co-operative, Inc. for authority to construct a similar 230 kv. line from Fort Randall Dam in South Dakota to Tamora Junction near Seward, will be heard next Tuesday.

Consumers had asked that its application be considered at the same time as G & T's, but Commission Chairman Joseph Brown said Wednesday the Commission felt they were "separate issues" and determined to split the hearings.

Only Safety Interference

Brown said the Commission's authority in these matters is to determine that such lines are built in conformity with the state's laws and Commission's rules and regulations pertaining to safety and also "not to interfere with existing facilities."

Determination of a line's "convenience and necessity" are beyond the scope of the Commission's jurisdiction.

Consumers' General Manager Ray Schacht of Columbus, said Wednesday that CPPD "certainly will go along with whatever approach the Commission determines on the hearing dates."

Construction of a heavy-duty line to provide additional power for Nebraska from the Missouri River Basin dam facility at Fort Randall has caused considerable controversy among public power officials in Nebraska.

Trial For Federal Line

Public power interests had tried without success for many years to get the federal government to build a 230 kv line from Fort Randall to the Grand Island area.

G & T, representing 22 rural public power districts, and CPPD both announced their intentions to proceed with construction of a transmission line Sept. 27.

G & T filed its application with the Commission Sept. 30.

Consumers officials expressed "surprise" at G & T's decision to terminate the line in eastern Nebraska. CPPD contends that it handles the bulk of the power load in eastern Nebraska, and said another heavy duty line would be needed in the Grand Island area by 1965.

Schmidt Sticks To Story

Thursday; and that Schmidt's wife called him from Wyoming.

County Attorney Gotobed reported late Wednesday that a minister, whom he would not name, had called to see Schmidt after the minister reportedly "got a feeling that I was needed" while holding a prayer meeting.

Authorities said Schmidt also has two married sons and a married daughter, all living in Wyoming, and a brother at Kenesaw, Neb.

Draws Sketches

Meanwhile, Schmidt continued recounting details of his visit inside the strange ship to authorites, even drawing sketches of the ship. He was visibly shaken after all-night interrogation by Kearney Police Chief Thurston Nelson who further questioned Schmidt all day Wednesday.

When authorities halted for lunch, Wednesday, Schmidt was taken to a cell in the city jail where he rested and ate. When he entered the cell he dropped exhausted on the jail bunk. Police Chief Nelson said Schmidt was being held in "voluntary protective custody."

Earlier in the day Chief Nelson reported Schmidt refused to give permission to take a lie detector test and asked for legal counsel. City Attorney Ward Minor, who also practices privately, was assigned. After consultation questioning continued as the special investigators made tape recordings of everything Schmidt said. Minor said he advised Schmidt to "tell the whole story and the truth."

Talks To Schmidt

In Gering, Neb., Scotts Bluff County Sheriff Steve Warrick said he had talked to Schmidt by telephone and had urged him to tell Kearney officers the truth, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

"He's just a mixed up boy," Warrick said, adding that Schmidt had been sent to the Nebraska Penitentiary for embezzlement and that Scotts Bluff County officers had had complaints against him for issuing bad checks.

State Penitentiary records in Lincoln show that a Reinhold O. Schmidt had been committed from Scotts Bluff County in 1938 for embezzlement and was paroled from his one-to-two year sentence in November, 1939.

Warrick said Schmidt told him he had "done some time," but he insisted that his account of visiting the space ship was true.

'Character'

Warrick said he'd known Schmidt for years and called him "a character." He said Schmidt had left Scottsbluff in about 1953 and gone to California.

Schmidt identified himself to Kearney authorities as a 48-year-old grain buyer from Bakersfield, Calif. However, he admitted Wednesday, officials said, that his correct age is 58.

Schmidt insists that he spent a chatty half hour inside the space ship, talking to the crew of four men and two women who spoke broken English and high German, which he understands "to an extent."

By a strange coincidence, he related, one of the crewmen looked exactly like a hotel acquaintance with whom he has been watching television programs.

Oil Cans Found

Wednesday Buffalo County Deputy Sheriff Dave Drage found a partly-emptied motor oil can about 60 feet from the place Schmidt said the strange ship landed. Drage said the can matched a full can of oil found in the rear of the California-license car driven by Schmidt. The oil cans and oil found at the scene are being compared.

Most officials, except the Air Defense officers who have remained mum, feel there is something wrong with Schmidt's story.

Wednesday afternoon special investigators and local officers accompanied Schmidt to the scene described by him and watched as he re-enacted the events of the previous day. While officers and Schmidt were at the scene, a narrow dirt road down to the site was blocked off by a State Safety Patrolman.

Associates of Schmidt in Brawley, Calif., said he is a quiet man, reliable and a non-drinker.

His boss, Donald Woodill, said Schmidt had worked for Val-U-Pack about six weeks as a grain buyer.

"He's not the type to fabricate something," Woodill told newsmen.

Ex-Singer Mitzie Wyman Is Dead

DETROIT (INS)—Mrs. Rhea Harris, 56, one-time Keith vaudeville circuit singer and band leader known under her stage name of Mitzie Wyman, Wednesday was found dead in her Detroit home.

Police said her face was covered with blood apparently from a fall. She was found in a hallway with her head against the wall. Death was believed due to natural causes.

Her oil man husband, James, died last June. She is survived by a son, William Lewis.

Theodore Thomas Funeral Saturday

Normal Schools Study

There is merit in the proposal of Gov. Victor Anderson's to make a complete survey of the physical plant needs of the state's four normal schools and the University of Nebraska. His proposal, so far, has received the endorsement of educational administrators which indicates that there is unanimous recognition of some of the problems confronting the state in this field.

Suggestion for the survey was the result of a dispute over the relative merits of proposed additions to the plants of the state colleges at Kearney and Peru. The governor has suggested that a study would decide this question as well as give the state a foundation on which to build future planning.

What has not been said in connection with the study is that it could create no end of dispute if it is a thorough search of the most economical means of higher education for the state. Perhaps it would be found that efficiency in this area in Nebraska is already at a maximum, but it could also be found that some changes are needed to get the most out of every dollar spent for education.

Before any survey is undertaken, there should be a resolve among all those groups and institutions which might be affected that the results of the survey are to be accepted. This, of course, is easier said than done, but it would be worthless to make a survey if there was not advance intentions to abide by its findings. Undertaken with such predetermination, the survey would be a valuable tool for the improvement of the standards of education in Nebraska.

Forget Tax Relief

Even practiced students of the American economy are at loss for words that would dependably summarize the current state of the nation dollarwise. But one thing has been revealed. Business profits for the first nine months of 1957 are running 7 per cent above 1956.

This was reported by Sam Dawson, Associated Press business commentator. He is presently engaged in keeping the running score on corporation reports showing the first three quarters. About half of them have been tabulated.

It is reassuring to learn that corporate earnings seem to be in contrast to the heavy retreat of equity values in the stock market. But it only heightens the question, why do stock values continue to fall in the face of improved profit?

A part of the complicated answer might be found in the uneven distribution of the profit making faculty. The greatest earning gains were made in three industries, steel, automobiles and oil. Small business and less favorable large business suffered declines.

Another part of the answer may be found in the unpromising conditions that are ushering in the fourth quarter. The 1957 profits in reference were made before Sputnik and also before the islands of unemployment became so noticeable. There is a possibility that fourth quarter business experience will substantially modify the position of the first nine months.

In any event the peculiar condition of business as mirrored in stock market values promises to come home to roost in the federal treasury. It seems inevitable that there will be heavy year end stock selling to establish capital losses. And capital losses are established to offset income taxes. That spells a reduction in federal income tax revenue, perhaps even a more strenuous resort to federal borrowing.

The average citizen need not concern himself with further details. The basic condition spells disappointment both for a lowering of government costs and tax relief.

A GOP Comeuppance

All major political victories Tuesday went to the Democrats.

New York City's mayor, Robert F. Wagner, swamped his Republican rival Robert K. Christenberry.

Down in Virginia J. Lindsay Almond Jr., found the going easy in his quest of the governorship. The Eisenhower-Nixon-endorsed Republican candidate, Ted Dalton, was almost a two to one loser.

And in New Jersey where the greatest national attention was focused; where Eisenhower Republicanism did everything it could for its candidate Malcolm S. Forbes short of staging a Little Rock, Governor Meyner, who is frequently thought of as Democratic presidential material, sailed back into office as though he had hardly been contested. When half the precincts had been counted he had a lead of 167,000. Two years ago when he was bracing against the high wind of Eisenhower popularity his final margin of victory was 17,000, less than his lead this time at the halfway mark.

It was a bleak election day for the Republican party. There was a necessity for a show of strength. Earlier in Wisconsin, William E. Proxmire gave a hint of things to come when he gave the Democratic party a thumping victory over Kohler in the contest for the Senate seat vacated by the death of Joseph McCarthy.

It will be interesting now to review the explanations of the apologists which will soon be forthcoming. But cold judgment says that victory at the polls is the only political yardstick that counts. And victory, albeit to some extent depending upon who is running, is mainly made up of public satisfaction and faith. There is a preponderance of evidence in these 1957 elections that that Republican leadership has been a good deal less than America expected.

A successful giveaway of Tidelands oil and the army marching on Little Rock are not sufficient triumphs to offset Russia's easily guided supremacy in the fields of science and statecraft.

The blunt fact is that the Eisenhower administration in six years has fumbled away a great deal of that part of the nation's strength and position where the great interests are at stake. It has made no contribution to the crucial problem of education. It injured rather than healed agriculture. Its war against high taxes and inflation has been no more impressive than a Latin American revolution. Its fiscal and budgetary manipulations could have been as well performed by any strong man with a ball bat.

It is small wonder that a disappointed electorate is looking for a refuge.

Some Similarity

There are a few ways in which the Russian Communist system and American democracy are similar. One is that no matter how high one gets in public life in either place he has no guarantee of tenure. There is Malenkov, Molotov and Khrushchev—just as badly off as if they had been defeated at the polls. However, America offers a better deal to the losers. They can stick around Washington and become lobbyists and later be investigated. Generally there isn't enough left of an ex-Commie boss to find, much less investigate.

Faculty Freedom

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There were courage, determination and confidence exemplified at the University of Nebraska Faculty Senate meeting at which a report was adopted dealing with the question of academic freedom. Involved was the case of Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell who was relieved in May of 1956 of his position of department chairman in agricultural economics at the University. Dr. Mitchell is now a financial advisor to Pakistan. However, the Mitchell case, as it has become known, is nothing but the title to a far more important fundamental. The issue involved no longer concerns just the individual.

★

A Senate committee had reported earlier that Dr. Mitchell's academic freedom had been abridged on at least three separate counts by the university administration. In considering what to do about this report, a second committee recommended that no action be taken and the case considered closed. Represented in the second group's report were conclusions stemming from either lack of understanding or lack of courage to accept responsibility. For to drop the report with no future action would have meant surrender of freedom by instructors. It would have meant the faculty was agreeable to teaching and conducting itself in a manner dictated by the university's administration. A free interpretation of subject matter and individual concepts of methods of presentation would have been locked away and the key discarded had the second or Liaison Committee report been adopted. The liaison report would have given the university administration authority which it would not even be expected to want. That such authority might have been tendered is not to say that it would have been used but even to have placed the potential in force would have been a sad mistake.

Reopening Of 'Closed Case'

It was a forthright and courageous step taken by the Senate's Committee on Academic Privilege when it went before the faculty and succeeded in cutting off any support of the liaison group's recommendations. Overwhelming support was given the program urged by Dr. David Dow, chairman of the Academic Privilege Committee, and a formal complete rejection of the Liaison Committee report failed to pass by only a slim vote of 95 to 85. Much more direct emphatic action on the part of the faculty could not have been expected.

★

The heart of the Senate action is contained in a statement by Dr. Dow that his committee "will interpret that action (Senate approval) to empower it to undertake to implement the final recommendation in the report by co-operating with the administration in an effort to state procedural rules to be followed in cases which may arise in the future involving issues of academic freedom and tenure." That is exactly what is needed—not a stinging condemnation of the administration, but a constructive working out of a policy for dealing with future cases involving the academic freedom of any member of the faculty. If there is a question of any instructor's activities or methods interfering with the ultimate goals and purposes of the university, demotion or dismissal should not be an arbitrary matter of administrative decision. At the end of any discussion of academic activity must eventually come a final decision by the administration but this decision must be based on policies and principles which enhance freedom of thought and expression, not destroy it.

Basis For Future Decisions

★

Had the faculty Senate endorsed the report of its Liaison Committee, it would have been undermining the very roots of its own foundation. It would have lent support to a system whereby its thoughts on subject matter could have been controlled as well as the presentation of those thoughts in both the classroom and in community life. It would be unfair to say the administration would resent the action of the Senate. As a matter of fact, the action should be welcomed as a means of closer and better relationships between the administration and the faculty and thus, greater ultimate achievement for the University as a whole.

Truman Tells How To Fire Big Shots

LOS ANGELES — Harry Truman bounced all over Los Angeles just at the time the Republicans pulled what the Democrats called their "Khrushchev purge of Zhukov act"—in other words, their purge of Gov. Goodwin Knight. He went out to Disneyland to get a little practice in being a grandfather even though it will be many months before his Dennis gets out of diapers. And he spent some time advising fellow Democrats how to win the next election.

To a very select group of friends he even discussed the Little Rock crisis and the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"I called in two men before I fired MacArthur—Dean Acheson and Gen. George Marshall—and asked their advice," he said. "Dean Acheson said MacArthur should have been fired long ago.

"But Marshall said: 'You should fire him, but he's got millions of friends. There would be a very bad public reaction.'

"So I told Marshall: 'George, you go out between now and tomorrow afternoon and talk to people—all kinds of people. And you come back here tomorrow afternoon and tell me what you think.' "

The next day, Truman said, General Marshall came back and reported: "Mr. President, you should have fired him long before this. The people will support you."

Musing about the aftermaths of his firing of General MacArthur, Truman continued, "I don't pretend to be as great, but two other Presidents faced the same problem with generals of the Army.

"There was Abraham Lincoln who had to fire three generals: and there was McKinley who had to fire an officer during the Spanish-American War. He was very popular, but McKinley fired him anyway.

"He had to, if he was going to keep the respect of the nation."

KNOWLAND'S TRUMP CARDS

Bill Knowland has a couple of trump cards up his sleeve in his race for governor of California and beyond it to the White House—if he makes the first hurdle. One is that he has an arrangement with Sen. John McClellan of Arkanas to take his Rackets Committee out to California for a full-dress probe of West Coast Labor.

Knowland has been for the "right to work" bill which Governor Knight has opposed. In his race for governor, therefore, the vote is expected to go for the Democrat, Pat Brown, and against Knowland.

However, Knowland will play down his former advocacy of the right-to-work bill and will campaign on an issue of "Democracy in labor unions." He will advocate the right of labor to elect their own leaders, and will demand protection for welfare funds. This is generally popular with Labor and should win even Knowland some labor votes.

The California attorney general's office is taking a look at the Knight withdrawal in favor of Senator Knowland to see if any "pecuniary or other consideration" was involved. If so, it might be illegal.

The most immediate similar withdrawal was that when Lieut. Gov. Joe Hanley of New York got out of the race for governor in favor of Tom Dewey in 1950 after Dewey earlier had decided not to run.

The Hanley withdrawal came after a meeting in the office of Winthrop Aldrich, then head of the Chase National Bank, attended by Frank Gannett, the upstate New York publisher; Roy Howard, the Scripps-Howard publisher; Carl Hallenauer of Bosch and Lomb plus various Wall Street moguls. They wanted Hanley out of the race, Dewey in.

Finally a deal was made whereby Hanley was promised a $15,000 salary on the New York Thruway Commission, plus a job as executive of one of the Rockefeller oil companies, plus the payment of Hanley's back debts.

Knight Is Victim Of Nixon Strategy

WASHINGTON — The Washington press corps is not particularly tender-minded; it could not be in view of the exercises in human nature and the parade of human folly it regularly witnesses from its front-row seats. But a surprising number found their often brutal sense of humor, so far as public affairs are concerned, hardly equal to the public downgrading of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California.

In his great renunciation scene, Knight gave the impression of a man eager to get it over with and get away. He could hardly be blamed for it.

All the White House bandages applied in person by President Eisenhower could not conceal that Knight had had his arm twisted by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon. Knight is relinquishing the Republican nomination for governor next year to Sen. William F. Knowland and will run instead for Knowland's Senate seat, not because he wants to but because he has to take what he can get.

In the name of party unity, Nixon devised this strategy and mustered the money and party elite of the California GOP behind it. There is no secret about this; Nixon's associates disclosed it.

What Knight knew as he faced the massed reporters was that he had for years discussed with many of them his intense dislike and distrust of Nixon. So far as he dared, he had translated his feelings into action and the reporters had written that, too.

Now they had gathered to watch him recant. They knew it and he knew it. To be beaten, even betrayed, in American politics is not new; Knight has plenty of company there. But the public recantation of error is newer on the American scene.

It has now happened to two of the vice-president's detractors within the Republican party —Knight and Harold Stassen, who vainly opposed Nixon's renomination last year. Stassen said his mea culpa before the whole party at the Republican national convention. Knight journeyed from California to the national sounding boards of the White House and the Capitol to say his.

In each case the slogan offered was party unity. Both men, of course, suffered in their personal dignity. Stassen has remained in the doghouse, but it is apparently felt that Knight can still be useful, since he is to run for senator.

Some objective observers agree with the assessment that Knight will be a strong candidate in his second choice of jobs. But these are people who expect that Knowland can be beaten and that Nixon will shed no tears over such a result.

The immediate California story has, of course, been discounted by advance reports that Nixon had the situation in hand. Time and the election returns will show how well he figured and will shed light on his motives.

BOB CONSIDINE

Loss Of Labor Cost Reds Italy Control

MOSCOW — In Rome the other day, former U.S. Ambassador James Dunn said something about the resurgence of Italian industry, prosperity and pride that isn't generally comprehended in America.

Dunn was our ambassador there in the difficult years just after the war when Italy could have gone down the drain of Communism with little more than a gentle shove.

Dunn said the remarkable fact about Italy's comeback is that the Marshall Plan aid we gave her never represented more than six per cent of the Italian economy. Along with millions of others, I would have thought we were plunking down a good half of what Italy survived on. Dunn says six per cent and he should know. He was in charge of disbursing it.

But it was a vital six per cent, he pointed out. It was coal, oil, copper, food and electricity producing plants. The gifts and power got the factories started again. The food gave the Italian working man the muscle he sorely needed. Italians did the rest.

We asked him about the Communist picture in Italy. Dunn is of the opinion that there are almost as many people now who would vote for Communist candidates as there were in the postwar showdown when the Pope threatened excommunication to any Catholic who voted that way or joined the party.

Where the Italian Reds have lost their grip, in Dunn's view, is in the labor unions and industry foremen. And there he feels Italy's moderates and pro-Americans have scored a historic victory.

Rome is bustling. Streets are clogged in a pereptual traffic jam through which seemingly millions of daredevils are riding Lambrettas and motorscooters of that sort. They must be classed as the greatest cyclists on earth, for they not only survive their mad flights, but frequently take the family along — an amply proportioned mamma mia and a bambino or two holding on like koala bears.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

One Dog And How She Grew

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

It is not unusual to hear a story about someone who was disappointed because he did not get as much of what he bought as he thought. Here is a reverse twist on that story.

About eight months ago Lt. and Mrs. Joseph Phelan of 344 No. 70th decided a collie was exactly what they needed for a playmate for their young daughter, Kathleen.

They envisioned Kathy and the dog becoming the best of friends. The dog would be devoted to Kathy. And Kathy would look upon her dog as her protector and playmate.

So Cindy, a purebred collie pup, came to live with the Phelans.

☆ ☆ ☆

One of her first affectionate gestures was to chew a hole in one of Mrs. Phelan's favorite rugs. Then it was decided that Cindy would be an "outside" dog. That seemed to suit Cindy fine, according to the Phelans, because she did not seem to like being indoors, anyway.

But soon it was apparent that Cindy was too much dog for the not-so-dog-loving neighborhod. She would have to be tied.

With Cindy outdoors most of the time and Kathy indoors most of the time, in Phelan's words, there "was not a close association."

But Cindy never reneged on her part of the bargain. She has always warned of the approach of strangers. She was gentle as a spirited pup can be with children. When the Phelans entered her in the Cornhusker Kennel Club dog show this fall, Cindy won third prize in the best-of-breed contest.

KATHLEEN PHELAN AND CINDY
. . . a happy time ahead in the country . . .

The Phelans were not disappointed because Cindy was a poor dog. She was more dog than Phelans had room for. Beside that, the family will be moving from Lincoln shortly, probably to an area where apartment living will be in order.

☆ ☆ ☆

Thus a search began for a satisfactory home for Cindy. Her welfare was utmost in Phelan's mind as he looked for a new master. Most of all he wanted Cindy to have a home on a farm.

After screening applications of several takers, it was decided that Cindy should move in with M.Sgt. Franklin Nikkel who lives on a farm two miles south of Emerald. What is more, Nikkel has three children.

His 15-year-old daughter is interested in show dogs. The other two, boys 10 and six years old, love dogs just because they are dogs.

Once Cindy gets to know her new home the Phelans are sure she will be much happier. But the move will not be made without misgivings. Cindy has become pals with a golden retriever across the street named Chipper. Cindy's happiest moments came when she and Chipper chased one another all through the neighborhood and home again.

By and large, however, it looks as if happy days are ahead for Cindy, and the Phelans could not be more relieved.

United Campaign

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Some time ago our public relations committee began work on outlining the program for the 1958 United Campaign. Although there remains a sizable amount of work yet to be done, the public aspect of the campaign is now a matter of history. Those of us who were so closely involved in the campaign were very much aware of the cooperation of The Star in carrying the story of the drive to the people of Lincoln.

Many old-timers have said that they have never experienced a United campaign which enjoyed such high morale. I think it is not an over-statement to say that most of the workers in the campaign actually enjoyed it. This does not come about by accident nor can the ultimate success of the drive be accounted for without giving due regard to an improved public acceptance.

Thanks to The Star staff.

Ungracious Lady

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I read in the Tuesday morning Star about the woman who slammed the door after bawling out a group of small children who were trick-or-treating and who were from the wrong side of town. Should it make any difference where they live? All children like fun and perhaps those needed it more than the youngsters in her own neighborhood. When they come to our door, we don't look to see who they are, whether we know them or not. It's supposed to be fun for all. Why take spite out on a group of small innocent children?

A neighbor lady and I went out with our children and we stopped at many places where we weren't known, but we weren't questioned anywhere. A person like the one who was so unpleasant will perhaps receive her reward some day for such actions. We weren't taught to be like that and I know those who are can't be very happy. They are too selfish.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: What is happening to The Star? More and more it reads like a small town weekly. First, planting according to the moon—long ago proved unscientific. Education Need

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: You do an excellent job of comparing education in Russia with that in the United States. You call attention to the fact that Russia is now turning out several times as many scientists and engineers each year as is the U.S. You call attention to the fact that while the number of Russian graduates is greater, the preparation is also more intense and exacting. Russia now has a solid foundation on which to erect a scientific superiority that will hopelessly outdistance the scientific accomplishment of the rest of the world. This fact may do more to win the cold war for Russia than any other factor involved in the great struggle.

German technology came within an ace of winning the last great war even with all the world in arms against it. Gen. Eisenhower in his book, "Crusade in Europe," gives it as his opinion that if Germans had had their missile program six months further along, they would probably have won the war. Parenthetically, with this experience in mind, one wonders why Mr. Eisenhower didn't made missile-building the first requisite of his defense program. The English used to say they won their wars on the playing fields of Eton. However that may be, nobody questions that the winners of the current struggle are young men and women of the laboratories and class rooms of the contending nations. It is one of the miracles of all time that a region literally of peasants and workers in a nation largely illiterate, bankrupt and occupied by foreign troops could in 40 years so threaten the supremacy of the advanced and cultured West.

Already we can see a crash program building up in the field of American missiles. But we shall struggle in vain unless this crash program includes education in its concept. When one looks at the way Nebraska communities are voting against bond levies for the most essential part of school building, one wonders. Some of the finest towns seem content to educate their children in church basements and other "temporary" expedients. Others of them are forced to resort to split sessions for their children. Our Nebraska delegation in Congress is inflexible in opposing federal aid to education. In general, the states of the Union pay 41 per cent of the cost of the education of their children. Nebraska is at the bottom of the list with practically nothing.

If Nebraska is to meet the educational necessities of the present crisis, it needs some congressmen with a new awareness of our lag in education. We should also hope that Nebraska voters may realize that education in their districts is a state and national necessity if we are to survive in the world struggle.

Positive Spirit

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We of Lincoln Northeast High School want to say "thank you" to The Lincoln Star in general and to the sports staff in particular. We were really helped in putting our best foot forward for the people of Lincoln and wherever The Star is read.

The coaches, the teams, the students, and the staff at Lincoln Northeast want to represent effectively the city of Lincoln and we are anxious to have the very best of relationships with the schools that are our opponents. The newspapers that publicize our activities and report our games have much to do with our success in attaining these goals.

The positive spirit which has characterized the pre-game publicity and the game stories this fall has been a real help in encouraging a fine school morale in Lincoln Northeast. We are most grateful for the good work The Star has done and we shall try always to be worthy of this kind of publicity.

SAC Knows What Every Russ Target Would Look Like From 9 Miles Up

PINECASTLE AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The Strategic Air Command (SAC) said Wednesday its crews know exactly—or almost exactly—what every potential target in Russia would look like.

That is, they know how it would look as viewed by radar from a bomber eight or nine miles up.

Some of the secrecy about the constantly improving atomic bombing capability of the Air Force was stripped away at SAC's annual bombing, navigation and reconnaissance competition conducted here and at Carswell Air Force Base, Tex., during the past six days.

Another disclosure was that the SAC does most of its bombing by offset—by deliberately aiming at a point a known distance away from the target.

At a ceremony here Wednesday, Lt. Gen. Francis Griswold, deputy commander of SAC, presented 21 trophies to the winners among the 90 crews from 45 wings—tops among all the bomber crews in SAC and the British Royal Air Force—that took part.

Guarded Terms

Crew members talked in guarded terms about the offset bombing technique, and more freely about radar studies of possible targets in Russia. They were able to talk on the basis of recent declassification of some of this information.

Presumably the material has been made public not only because it probably already has become known to the Communists but because the United States wants the Soviets to know for sure that armed aggression by the Reds would bring swift nuclear retaliation.

Offset bombing is a useful technique because many of the most important targets in Russia—or in the United States for that matter—do not show up well on radar.

When the radar observer finds that his target is one which does not provide a satisfactory radar "return" he chooses, instead, another ground object in the area that yields a good return on his radarscope, and aims on it.

The good-return object may be as much as 10 miles off his course. Nevertheless, he cranks the latitude and longitude into his bombing computer and that device leads him straight to the desired bomb-releasing point over the original target.

Visual bombing has been behind the times in the SAC for several years. All SAC bombing now is done by radar.

SAC has taught its crews what targets in Russia—and in other parts of the world from which SAC Aerial reconnaissance is barred—would look like on their B-52 and B-47 radarscopes.

It has done this through the use of "target prediction plates," a technique devised by SAC's radar and photographic experts.

The technique is based on the fact that everything on the ground provides radar returns of varying intensity. Roads yield one type of return, buildings another. Concrete produces a return that is quite different from that yielded by steel.

The SAC experts study aerial photographs, maps, tourist information and all the other available intelligence on a given Soviet city or target area.

Large-Scale Map

Then they reproduce the area on a large-scale map. The height of the area structures is indicated by overlays of varying shades of gray.

This information is transferred to a plate on which copper filings build up in proper scale to the proportions of the factories, rail yards, river banks, hills and other landmarks.

The target prediction plate is immersed in water in a bombing-navigation trainer. The trainer transmits sound through the water. The sound, reflected back from the plate, yields the same presentation on a radarscope that a radar-beam return from a ground target would.

This scope presentation is then photographed, whereupon the crew has a remarkably accurate picture of the way the real city or target would show up on radar, on an actual mission.

THE FIRST CAR EVER TO USE THE WHOLE WORLD AS A TEST TRACK

You'll ride in a new world of style in the 58 Ford

New deep-sculptured styling
New Interceptor V-8 power
New Cruise-O-Matic Drive
New Ford-Aire Suspension
New Magic-Circle Steering

The 58 Ford is the newest car in the world—the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere.

Here's a car so new, so beautiful it made eyes pop from Paris to Pakistan . . . a car so rugged it proved its mettle in a road test around the entire world! Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine took the mighty Himalayas and our own rugged Rockies without a puff. What's more, it did it on surprisingly little gas—thanks to new Precision Fuel Induction. And after thousands of unbelievably tough miles, all roads led to one conclusion: the 58 Ford is the solidest, smoothest, travelingest new car ever! Let us show you the world's most beautiful new bargain!

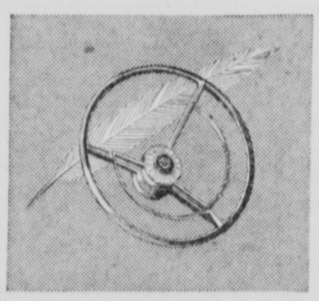
You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. There's nothing newer than these engines that give you up to 300 hp. Smoother power! From less gas! One secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a new carburetion, fuel feeding, and combustion system. It routes the fuel-air mixture from carburetor to machined combustion chambers directly, so each cylinder does the same work, the most work!

You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. Here is the newest, most versatile of all automatic drives. New D1 position, used for all normal driving, lets you move smoothly—at a touch of your toe—from brisk, solid-feeling take-offs up to highway cruising speeds. Gas-saving axle ratio used with Cruise-O-Matic means "built-in" overdrive savings.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. This is the way you've dreamed of driving—floating on air! Four air pillows literally soak up bumps. And the Ford's new air suspension is power-controlled to relevel the car every time someone steps inside or luggage is loaded. It always keeps full road clearance. An extra cost option, you get all this at traditionally low Ford prices!



You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering! And this is just one of the many new "Inner Ford" advances you'll discover in the 58 Ford that's been proved around the world. Come in and see it for yourself!

Survey Made Of High School Students

C Of C Eyes Educating Public On Economics

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce voted to consider a program of educating the general public on the American economic system at a Wednesday meeting featuring two U.S. Chamber speakers.

A survey of the economic thinking of 630 Lincoln high school seniors, compiled especially for the Chamber meeting, and reports of the need for dissemination of "business relations" information by the U.S. Chamber officials, led to the action.

The Lincoln group voted to have its president, Burnham Yates, present to the board of directors a program to correlate its existing activities in the field of better public understanding and expand them through creation of a program co-ordinating committee on business relations.

The suggestion was made by J. R. Pratt of Minneapolis, manager of the U.S. Chamber's Northwestern Division.

Reasons Why

Richard L. Baily of Sioux Falls, S.D., eastern district manager of the Northwestern Division, cited reasons why special emphasis should be placed on educating the public on the American profit-and-loss system by Chamber groups.

"Large segments of the general public, of employes and of high school students, indicate in surveys that they feel the business system in general is doing a good job, but that more government regulation is desirable," he said. "Yet, very large segments of the same groups say that competition keeps prices fair and that increased productivity is the most potent single factor in raising the country's living standards."

Baily quoted national survey figures and compared them with Lincoln high school students' replies. In general the high schoolers held slightly different opinions from the national general public and employe groups.

With 40 per cent of employes nationally stating that more business should be regulated by government, and 34 per cent of the general public voting that way, only 25 per cent of Lincoln's seniors took that stand, he said.

Of employes, 35 per cent felt that productivity was the surest way to increase the living standard (as compared with higher wages, lower prices, limits on profits or increased government spending). The Lincoln students voted for productivity by 32 per cent while the general public gave it a 27 per cent vote.

Other questions on the surveys involved subjects like disappearing competition, improper sharing of income between owners and employes, and average net profit for business as a whole.

Congressional Tax Exemptions Probe On Research Asked; Lincolnite Speaks

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The American Council of Independent Laboratories Wednesday called for a congressional investigation of the use of tax-exempt research facilities by non-profit institutes and universities.

The council said the facilities should be tax exempt only if used for basic research.

One hundred delegates, representing 50 research, testing and inspection laboratories from throughout the United States, approved a resolution urging the inquiry.

Lewis E. Harris, Lincoln, Neb., chairman of the council's taxation committee, said a recent National Science Foundation study showed only 6 per cent of non-profit institute facilities are used for basic research.

"For 10 years the council has warned that the United States would lose science leadership in the world if we continue to permit non-profit institutes and universities to engage in business research rather than conducting the basic research for which they were founded."

"The public has been brought to the sobering realization of this matter in connection with the recent Russian satellite program which illustrates only one of our many national weaknesses," Harris said.

Red Threat Of Boycott Is Ignored

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations brushed aside Wednesday the threat of a Soviet boycott and called for new private talks aimed at breaking the disarmament deadlock.

By a thumping majority of 57 to 9 the 82-nation Political Committee approved a resolution calling for the U.N. subcommittee on disarmament to resume its negotiations with priority given to proposals by the Western powers.

The Soviet Union failed to find any support outside its own bloc in opposing the proposal. Among the 15 nations abstaining were Syria, Yugoslavia, India, Egypt and other Arab nations. South Africa was absent.

The vote in the Political Committee assured the resolution of formal adoption by the required two-thirds approval when it goes to the General Assembly. Abstentions are not counted in determining the majority.

Many delegates were surprised at the vote in the view of the Soviet Union's announcement Monday that it would not attend any more talks in the 12-nation disarmament commission or its subcommittee as they are now organized.

The announcement was taken as presaging a complete breakdown in disarmament talks that have been going on for more than 10 years under U.N. auspices. The United States and other Western powers charged the Soviet Union with trying to intimidate the United Nations, but there were no suggestions Moscow was bluffing.

Watch For Muttnik To Go On Here

The pre-dawn watch at Nebraska Wesleyan University for Muttnik will continue Friday morning, the third day observers turned eyes skyward here to see the dog-bearing satellite.

Under the direction of Prof. Carroll L. Moore, Wesleyan's "Operation Moonwatch" will be continuing for the next few days.

"Muttnik" according to the Naval Research Laboratory passed over North Platte, at 5:57 a.m. Thursday.

Wednesday, when it passed east of Lincoln, it was sighted by the Grand Island Weather Bureau station at 5:46 a. m. The Russian satellite was visible for about 5.29 minutes.

The Grand Island station was one of five central United States weather stations to spot the satellite.

Negro Woman Elected To Buffalo City Council

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A Negro woman will be the first woman in history to serve on the Buffalo City Council.

Mrs. Cora P. Maloney, a Democrat, was elected from a district that never before had sent a Negro to the council. The district's Negro population has been growing. Mrs. Maloney did not have her party's official endorsement.

John Church, 67, Rites Saturday

Graveside services for John G. Church, 67, of Park Rapids, Minn., will be held 11 a.m. Saturday in Calvary with Msgr. L. V. Barnes officiating.

Mr. Church, who died Wednesday while visiting his daughter in Lincoln, was formerly a Cherry County rancher for many years.

For the past 18 years Mr. Church had operated a summer resort at Park Rapids.

Surviving are his wife, Catherine; daughter, Mrs. Clyde Card of Lincoln; a son, James W. Church of Kirk, Colo., and four grandchildren.

Four Die In Iowa Crash

KNOXVILLE, Ia. (AP)—A two-car collision which left no survivors took the lives of four persons south of Knoxville Wednesday afternoon.

The dead were identified as Dr. Harry Cloyed, 53, Ottumwa osteopath, and Mr. and Mrs. William Tisue and their son, David, 14, of Moravia.

The accident occurred on Highway 60 about 10 miles south of Knoxville near the village of Attica.

Authorities said Dr. Cloyd was alone in his car. The other three were in the Tisue car.

Both vehicles were demolished.

61 Persons Dead

VALENCIA, Spain (AP)—The government said 61 persons have been found dead and 15 others still are missing in Valencia and its surrounding province as a result of floods Oct. 14-15.

The announcement was believed to be an answer to reports that the number of dead ran into the hundreds.

California Democrat Cites 'Deal'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, California's Democratic attorney general, expressed confidence Wednesday he'll be elected governor next year. He said the issues will include Russia's Sputnik and what he termed a "deal" among Republican candidates.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight announced Tuesday he was giving up his bid for re-election and would run instead for the Republican senatorial nomination. This leaves the GOP gubernatorial nomination open to Sen. William F. Knowland.

Brown said a California Republican told him it had been arranged for Knowland to resign his Senate seat after the primary next June so Knight could be appointed to the vacancy and run as an incumbent senator in the November election.

Knight quickly put out a statement saying "I have never discussed Mr. Brown's reported scheme with Sen. Knowland and no representative of mine has done so."

Knowland's decision to give up his Senate seat in favor of a try for the governorship was believed to be aimed at putting him in a better position to try for the GOP presidential nomination, probably in 1960.

Since Vice President Nixon is certain to seek the presidential nomination in 1960, Brown was asked who he thinks will be the next Californian to be President. He replied:

"Just say I smiled modestly."

Mrs. Helen Leland Services Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen G. Leland, 68, of 1047 South St., who died Wednesday, will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Umbergers.

Dr. Frank Court will officiate and burial will be in Wyuka.

A native of Beatrice, Mrs. Leland had lived in Lincoln since 1905, with the exception of three years in Coaldale, Colo. She was a member of Charity Rebekah Lodge 2, and Ladies Auxiliary Union 399.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Waldo Rick of Seward; sister, Mrs. Lois Wheeler of Los Angeles, Calif.; brother, Walter Pethoud of Lincoln, and two grandsons.

Saucer Story Not Sheriff's Cup Of Tea

A check of the Lancaster County Sheriff's radio log Wednesday showed the sheriff's night patrol didn't think too much of a flying saucer report received Tuesday night.

The log stated:

"9:30 p.m. Advised a flying saucer damaged a farm four miles south of Lincoln on So. 27th, at the 'George Lincoln farm'."

"10:20 p.m. Must have done a good job, could find nothing in area."

A check of the telephone directory and city directory failed to turn up anyone with the name of "George Lincoln" and the address listed for his farm, the "5400 block" on So. 27th, is nonexistent. A telephone call to an Omaha radio station is said to have been the origin of the report.

James Kortus Dies

James Kortus, 76, of 860 No. 29th, died Wednesday. He was a member of the Catholic Church. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Otto Bloom and Mrs. Lee Todd, both of Lincoln.

Burglars Get Over $100 In Narcotics

More than $100 worth of narcotics were stolen Wednesday in an early-morning burglary at Winter Drug Store, 1211 No. 10th.

Police reported the door of the drug store had been forced open and a drawer containing various types of narcotics was stolen from behind a counter. The drugs were in powdered, capsule and tablet form.

Four bottles of the drugs—only a "small part" of the amount taken—were found on Claremont Street between 13th and 14th by school children about 9 a.m. The rest of the narcotics is still missing.

Police said about $25 in coins in a cash register and the day's receipts—which were hidden—were not disturbed by the intruders.

NU Dental Alums Name Dr. Jackson

Dr. Byron Tullis, Lincoln, newly installed president of the University of Nebraska Dental College Alumni Assn., will be succeeded by Dr. Herbert Jackson, Beatrice, in 1958.

Dr. Jackson was named to the post Wednesday.

Dr. James Weesner, Lincoln, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

New directors board members included Drs. William O. Pubsley, Fremont; Arden V. Means, Holdrege; Wayne O. Sintek, Norfolk, and Robert W. Chapin, Omaha.

Youth's Injuries Slight In Crash

An Omaha youth suffered minor injuries Wednesday morning in a five-car accident at 28th and Cornhusker Highway.

Chris M. Arps, 19, was treated at a local hospital for cuts and bruises and released. The Safety Patrol said the car he was driving was in collision with the rear of the car driven by Willard Holdren, 37, of Omaha.

The Holdren car, the Patrol said, then hit the rear of a car driven by Robert L. Wood, 29, of Garden City, Mich. His car then hit the rear of the auto of Lucille Wills, 22, of 6534 Platte which finally hit the rear of the car of E. Benton Cobb, 20, of 2820 No. 49th. Three of the cars received heavy damage, the Patrol said, but only Arps was hurt.

Nose Tweaked

MOSCOW (INS)—Nikita Khrushchev tweaked Uncle Sam's nose in commenting on America's failure thus far to launch an earth satellite.

The Communist party chief told a jubilee session of Parliament:

"The United States announced they would launch a satellite and called it Vanguard — nothing else but Vanguard. Evidently the Soviet Sputniks came in front of Vanguard."

19 CITIES GET FEDERAL AID FOR ROAD CONSTRUCTION

The nearly $2½ million in federal aid for arterial highway construction, allocated to 19 Nebraska cities for the fiscal years of 1958 and 1959, amounts to 24 per cent more than allocations for the preceding two years.

Amounts allocated to the cities on the basis of population were announced Wednesday by the State Department of Roads.

Most of the cities also have leftover money from previous allocations, although a few already have programmed work which will dip into the new allocation as well.

Alliance, apportioned $37,079, already had arranged federal aid projects which would use $29,753 of this total.

Kearney, apportioned $56,929, has programmed work requiring $123,774 in federal aid in excess of past appropriations.

Lexington was allowed $23,815 for the next two years but already had an overdraft on federal aid of $39,835.

The new apportionments and amount of carryover for other cities:

Beatrice, $35,509 and $86,193.
Columbus, $41,746 and $36,457.
Fairbury, $30,050 and $26,243.
Falls City, $29,148 and $6,856.
Fremont, $69,367 and $60,580.
Grand Island, $106,383 and $59,647.
Hastings, $94,972 and $145,637.
Lincoln, $464,658 and $607,917.
McCook, $36,079 and $31,508.
Nebraska City, $32,291 and $50,261.
Norfolk, $53,263 and $46,516.
North Platte, $72,320 and $63,333.
Omaha, $1,180,001 and $883,949.
Scottsbluff, $60,420 and $52,766.
South Sioux City, $26,113 and $22,804.
York, $29,030 and $15,853.

SUBURBIA

A good morning to our Eastborough friends, and a quick glance at our "Little Red Book" this Thursday ayem as we hear of an unusual number of guests, coffee hostesses and birthday celebrants.

On today's agenda of news is a birthday party and the young celebrant is Miss Kathleen Stokes who will be honored on her eighth anniversary this afternoon. Mrs. Charles Stokes will be hostess to her daughter and several of her neighborhood friends who will include Martha Jane and John Martens, John Brown, Kathy Farn, James Seward, Patricia Winter, Kathy Davies, Barbara Haith and Sybil Marty. The afternoon's festivities will include party games and refreshments which will be served by the hostess who will be assisted by Kathleen's sister, Patricia.

We're sorry to have to say farewell this ayem to Mr. and Mrs. Pat Stephenson and their three children, Cheryl, Gary and Karen who soon will depart from their Eastborough home to reside in Denver, Colo.

Complimenting Mrs. Stephenson at a surprise courtesy on Wednesday evening was Mrs. Gordon Wilkinson who was hostess at an informal coffee in her home. Guests, in addition to the honoree, were Mrs. Dwight Moorberg, Mrs. Marvin Kelle, Mrs. Art Whisennand, Mrs. Ben Potts, Mrs. Robert Swan and Mrs. James Albin.

A recent guest in the suburb was Mrs. Helen Jordan of Hollywood, Calif., who visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilkinson and their youngsters, Lora Lee and Kristi Kay. Mrs. Jordan left on Friday following a two week stay in the neighborhood.

Visiting in the suburb home of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Belker is Mr. Belker's mother, Mrs. Verna Belker who resides in Quincy, Ill. Mrs. Belker recently arrived in Lincoln en route home from a visit with relatives in San Diego, Calif.

Mention should certainly be made of one of the more recent members to the bassinet clan before we hear of the other news highlights this morning. Making his grand appearance on Monday, Oct. 28, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, was Thomas Howard Crouse who is son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crouse, and the brother of Bonnie and Johnny. Thomas's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Weaver of West Jefferson, N.C., and Mrs. Esther S. Crouse of Winston-Salem, N.C.

Back to news of guests—We understand that Mr. and Mrs. C. Lowell Grisso are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Denham. The Grisso couple reside in Indianapolis, Ind.

And motoring to the suburb home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace D. Reed, Barbara and Cindy, last Sunday for an informal dinner party were Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garber of Nebraska City.

A hostess last Tuesday morning was Mrs. Wallace Reed and the event in her home was a "get-acquainted" coffee. The guest list included Mrs. Charles Born and son, Paul, Mrs. William Shamburg, Mark and Anne, Mrs. Robert Knuth and David Lee and Mrs. Robert Nelson, Kristine Sue and Bradley Kim, day celebrants. It was last Monday.

Turning now to various other happenings we'll tell you about one of the suburb's recent birthday celebrants. It was on Monday afternoon when three-year-old Susie Burt was honored at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Weldon Burt. Susie's guests were Cindy Reed, Laura Wells, Becky Hahn, Randy Ritter, Laurie and Christy Hartsock.

AROUND THE TOWN

THERE IS considerable activity around and about judging from our calendar which is a bit chubbier than it has been during the past few days—But before we delve into the plans, general and specific, we want to extend a belated birthday greeting to two of our favorite people—Mrs. Donald W. Miller and Arthus S. Raymond—whose anniversaries were on the same day—Monday, Nov. 5.

UNDERSTAND that something new has been added to the Lincoln Symphony Association—a Woman's Association which no doubt is composed of women who have more than a casual interest in the Symphony, and who will be active in plans for its well being.

We were told, too, that the members of the Woman's Association will have a coffee next Monday morning, and that the elected officers of the group, Mrs. J. Edmunds Miller, president; Mrs. Houghton Furr, vice-president; Mrs. E. D. Zeman, secretary, and Mrs. Merle Hale, treasurer, will serve as hostesses for the 10 o'clock affair.

Husbands Were Club Guests

"The Women's World", was the theme of the program for the dinner-meeting of the Ak-Sar-Ben Toastmistress Club Tuesday evening at the LAFB Officers Club, where the members entertained their husbands as special guests.

Mrs. Theron Crorey was topicmistress during the dinner when the husbands were called upon for extemporaneous talks, and presiding as toastmistress was Mrs. Robert Hoffman. Program speakers were Mrs. Rolly Smith and Mrs. Don Grimwood.

Leo Kopp, who is beginning his 12th season as conductor of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra, will speak.

AND THE Saddle Club is having quite a whingding this week end—The festivities open on Friday evening with a square dance party at the Club House for all Saddle Club members and their families. Dr. Carl Georgi is in charge.

The Lancaster County Sheriff's Posse has a rodeo planned for Saturday morning, and following lunch—also at the Club House, there is to be horse show under the direction of William Stenten and John Grasmick.

* * *

HEAR that Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Cadwallader arrived from New Orleans a few days ago and are spending some time in their Lincoln residence. During their stay here Mr. Cadwallader has been in and out of town filling speaking engagements at various Rotary Clubs.

THERE'S a new member in the Talcum Powder set at Berkeley, Mo. It seems that young Edward Krieger arrived on Saturday, Nov. 2. The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Krieger, and his mother is the former Carolyn Burt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Burt. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Krieger are the paternal grandparents, and listed among Edward's most devoted admirer's is his maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. A. A. Tanner.

The Quill Has Meeting

Miss Clara J. Smith was hostess to members of The Quill at her home on Tuesday evening when the program included a monologue, "My Husband's Friend," by Mrs. Charles Fahnestock; and a short story, "Divine Coincidence," by Mrs. Lawrence E. Wentz.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Sealock and her daughter, Miss Thelma Sealock, on Nov. 19.

Candlelight Wedding

MRS. ARNOLD AHLMAN

The wedding of Miss Doris Heinle, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Heinle of McClusky, N.D., and Arnold Ahlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willy Ahlman, took place Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27, at Mt. Olive Lutheran Church in Lincoln. Lighted white candles and bouquets of white carnations formed the chancel decorations for the ceremony, which was solemnized by the Rev. L. C. Gruendeman. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Gruendeman, organist, who also accompanied the Rev. Carl Nommensen, the vocal soloist.

Frocked in mint green tulle over taffeta was Mrs. Arthur Ahlman, the matron of honor, who carried a colonial nosegay of white carnations. Miss DeAnn Rae Opp attended her aunt as flower girl.

Larry Ahlman served his brother as best man.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Alvin Opp, the bride appeared in a gown of white tulle and lace over satin. The molded bodice of lace was designed with long, fitted sleeves and a high throatline jeweled with seed pearls and paillettes, and a panel of lace trimmed the front of the full skirt of tulle. Her illusion veil was held to the head by a bandeau of lace edged with pearls, and she carried a rounded bouquet of red roses encircled with white feathered carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors after which the couple left for a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ahlman will reside in Lincoln.

Anniversary Celebrated

In celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Paswaters, which officially was Nov. 1, a group of relatives, old friends and neighbors surprised them on Sunday afternoon at their home. The 35 guests brought the food for late afternooon dessert.

Miss US, 1956, To Wed

MISS CARLENE KING JOHNSON

Announcement is made this morning by Dr. and Mrs. Norman F. Johnson of Rutland, Vt., formerly of Lincoln, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carlene King, to Lawrence Harold Drake of Long Beach, Calif., son of Mrs. Esther Mae Drake, also of Long Beach, and Theodore H. Drake of Belmont Heights, Calif.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Dec. 21, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Congregational Church in Rutland.

Miss Johnson, the granddaughter of Mrs. J. Ray King, also formerly of Lincoln, and the late Mr. King, was Miss United States of America, 1956. She attended Middlebury College in Middlebury, Vt., and the Forsyth School for Dental Hygienists in Boston, Mass. For the past two years she has resided in Hollywood where she is under contract to Universal-International Studios. Since January she has been associated with the Scandinavian Air Lines as a hostess for their celebrated Polar Flight.

Miss Johnson's fiance is vice-president of the Drake Craft Boats, Inc., Wilmington, Calif., for which he also is a boat designer, and is president of the Marina Repair Co., of Alamitos Bay, Calif.

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

BY ANNE SOWLES AND NEAL HIGGINS

Friday night at the half-time of the Northeast-Southeast football game Lynn Wright and Gary Gibson were crowned 1957 Southeast High homecoming queen and king. Last year's king and queen, Roger Brandt and Sue Turner, presented the royalty with their crowns. The gridiron was an array of colors as the girls dressed in their formals were escorted on to the field by the football players. Lynn wore a white lace formal with a green taffeta cummerbund and bow. Sandie Johnson was attired in a red taffeta strapless dress with back interest in a red bow. Green crystalette and a midriff of green sequins was worn by Leah Cheuvront. Also in white lace was Glenda Luff, Glenda's dress had a blue lace sash. Anne Sowles appeared in a black taffeta with an empire waist and black lace over a pink taffeta bodice. All of the attendants wore gold crowns.

★

Many of Southeast's alumni returned for the dance Saturday night. Some of the couples we saw were: Bill Roper (Westminster) and Cindy Haynie, Sue Turner (Stephens) and John Barthell (University of Neb.), Mary Lou Finnigsmier and Dick Yant (Doane), Sharon Everett (University of Neb.) and Bill Redmond.

★

Although the flu has taken many out of school this last week the Shield Staff has sold 209 year books in the first week of sales.

★

FLASH: A little bird has told us there is going to be a big dance Saturday night, November 16. The dance sponsored by the Southeast Key Club, will be called the Swamp Stomp. The party is open to all senior high students at Southeast and their dates.

★

This Friday night will be our last football game of the season. We will be hosts to Grand Island at the Lincoln High School Oval at 7:30.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nearhood announce the birth of a son, Richard David, on Tuesday, Nov. 5, at Lincoln General Hospital. Eagerly awaiting the young Richard's homesoming are his brother, Jimmy, and his sister, Janet Sue.

Alpha Xi Delta Guest

Arriving in Lincoln late Friday evening will be Miss Dorothy Swinney of Wichita, Kan., province president of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, who will be the guest of Rho Chapter at the University of Nebraska until Tuesday.

Miss Swinney will be the guest of honor on Sunday when the members of the active chapter will be hostesses at a tea to be held at the chapter house. Guests will include Lincoln alumnae of the sorority.

Junior Club To Entertain

The members of the Junior Woman's Club of Lincoln will entertain at a benefit card party Friday evening at East Hills Country Club. The party will help raise funds for the club's philanthropic projects.

In charge of arrangements for the 8:30 o'clock party are Mrs. Wallace Cameron, Mrs. Merle Wallen, Mrs. H. F. Juckette, Mrs. W. H. Schwartz, Mrs. Carl H. Keister, Mrs. Stanley Wentz, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. Jack Hart, Mrs. Emery Nelson, Mrs. Donald Bauer, Mrs. Leslie Bailey and Mrs. Charles Wenz.

Double Ring Service

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT LEE KINNISON

The wedding of Miss Phyllis Leack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil White of Lincoln, and Robert Lee Kinnison, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnison of Edgar, took place on Friday, Oct. 11, at the Methodist Church in Fairbury. The double ring service was solemnized in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends.

LaVona Morgan was the bride's only attendant and wore an afternoon frock of blue crepe with matching blue and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses. Francis Morgan served Mr. Kinnison as best man.

The bride wore a dressmaker suit in aqua and white wool with white accessories. She carried a white Bible ornamented with a white orchid.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Edgar. Upon their return from a wedding trip to Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Kinnison are residing on a farm near Edgar.

YWCA Yule Class Planned

Registration is open at the YWCA for a Christmas craft course to be held the mornings of Nov. 13 and 20 at the Lincoln YW. The first session will feature Christmas decorations, to be taught by Mrs. R. E. Carey who also will demonstrate the sugar mold craft.

Mrs. E. L. Sommer will instruct the second session and will demonstrate Christmas wall hangings, door swags and arrangements of greens as well as how to fashion Della Robia wreathes.

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

Do you know there is a 12-foot waggle in the wing of the new Lockheed Jetstream? A sobering thought, Daddy-O.

We taxied out on the cold, cold runway at Idlewild, New York. the wings flapping like a pelican. All planes have a wing waggle and this is aerodynamically perfect.

My feeling about the law of aerodynamics is that it might be repealed. I fly with the same gloomy distruct that my great-grandpa had in the 1914 Cadillac.

"You keep a'twistin' on that wheel," he told my grandfather, "and you'll twist her right off."

He said anything you couldn't steer with reins was a mechanical freak. And he preferred to go to town in the buckboard behind old Snip, thank you kindly, he said.

☆ ☆ ☆

The airlines pay no attention to me. Just go on designing things with more flap and more whoosh.

Once I was riding with an airline president. A former pilot himself. He pointed out the flapping wing to me. I would never have noticed it myself.

"If there was no waggle in the wing," he said, "the pilot would be mighty worried."

He then went into a lot of technical talk about stress and lift and air flow. I sat there and watched the wings flap like a pigeon. I was certainly glad the pilot was not worried.

Next year come the jets. And me just getting accustomed to the DC-3.

Great-grandpa had the idea. Hitch up old Snip and slap him a few licks with the buggy whip and there you were, jogging off to town.

Then, nothing would do but we must get the old Cadillac. And here we are, off to the races.

One letter simply stands for another, in this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Buffs' Stransky Among Top All-American Candidates

MARTZ . . . sophomore hurt in workout.

NEW YORK (AP)—A great crop of backfield men is shaping up for the 1957 All-America football team on the basis of preliminary reports by Associated Press regional boards across the country.

Heading the list are John Crow, star of the nation's current No. 1 team, Texas A&M; Don Clark of Ohio State and Jim Pace of Michigan from the Big Ten; Bob Stransky of Colorado and Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma representing the Big Eight; Ray Brown of Mississippi and Bobby Gordon of Tennessee from the Southeastern Conference, and Jimmy Jones from Washington.

The Associated Press All-America team will be announced Dec. 5 and will be based on play throughout the entire season. With many teams having three or more games still to play, the picture can be radically altered by the end of November. The All-America is chosen by piecing together recommendations from boards of sports writers and sportscasters representing all major conferences and areas.

High on the list of backfield candidates are Tom Forrestal, Navy's quarterback; Don Ellingsen of Washington State who plays end on offense and safety on defense; Don Allard of Boston College; James Ninowski of Michigan State and Frank Kremblas of Ohio State; Jimmy Taylor of LSU; Roddy Osborne, Texas A&M.; Gerald Nesbitt, Arkansas fullback; Mike Sommer, George Washington halfback; Dick Christy, North Carolina State halfback; Wray Carlton of Duke; Bob Mulgado, Arizona State, and Lee Grosscup, Utah quarterback.

Because of their tough schedules, many leading All-America candidates do not appear on the NCAA lists of statistical leaders. However, Stransky tops the nation in rushing with 764 yards in 128 carries, and Clark is sixth with 599 yards in 112 attempts. Forrestal is sixth among the nation's passers with 853 years on 57 passes completed out of 111.

Others on the recommended list who rank high statistically are Grosscup with 762 yards on 59 passes completed out of 82, and Allard, who has 716 yards on 43 passes completed out of 91.

Rounding out the list of backfield men recommended by the regional boards are Billy Stacy, Mississippi State quarterback; John Varone, Miami; Lary Hickman, Baylor; King Hill, Rice; Buddy Dike, Texas Christian; Jim Bakhtiar, Virginia; Alex Hawkins, South Carolina; Bobby Jordan, VMI; Bobby Schwarte, The Citadel; Joe Francis, Oregon State; Jerry Shanley, Oregon; Bob Newman, Washington State, and Weldon Jackson, Brigham Young.

Of this last group, Bakhtiar makes the best showing statistically. He is second in the nation in major colleges in rushing with 676 yards in 149 carries. Hill is eighth in total offense with 832 yards in 110 plays. Francis is 12th in total offense with 733 yards in 119 plays and Shanley is 11th in rushing with 539 yards in 126 attempts.

HALIMI GETS DECISION

French Boxer Outpoints Mexican Champ Macias

. . . For Undisputed World Bantamweight Crown

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The undisputed bantamweight championship of the world went to France Wednesday night when Alphonse Halimi of Paris won a split decision over Mexico's Raul (Little Mouse) Macias in a bruising 15-round title battle.

A bedlam of boos from Macias' army of followers greeted the verdict after a fight that was never spectacular, but hard fought from the first round to the last.

Referee Mushy Callahan, under California's 10-point must per round system, scored it 144 to 141 for the 24-year-old Macias, but he was overruled by the two judges.

Frankie Van carded it 148-141 for Halimi and Dynamite Jackson gave it to the 25-year-old Frenchman, 147-137.

The Associated Press had it dead even going into the final round and still even, 146-146, at the finish.

A crowd estimated at 20,000 watched the two young warriors battle it out for the disputed title, gathered in chilly but clear weather in Wrigley Field, home of the coming Los Angeles Dodgers.

Halimi, the little toy bulldog who learned to fight in the shabby streets of his native Algiers, was recognized by the World Boxing Championship Committee and the Boxing Union of Europe.

Macias, the handsome Pied Piper of Manana Land who lured some 8,000 of his countrymen to the scene of the battle, was recognized by the National Boxing Assn.

There were no knockdowns and the only blood shed was a slight drip from the classic Macias nose which started in the early rounds.

Raton, or Little Mouse, answered the bell for the second with a slight puff under his left eye. He kept blinking it during the next few rounds, but apparently it didn't bother him too much. Halimi was unmarked.

Halimi went out in front in the last five rounds when he changed his tactics and began to fight from long range, gaining an advantage of a reach of almost two inches over Macias.

Macias, the master boxer, had trouble figuring out Alphonse's flicking left and sudden switch from in-fighting to a dancer.

Each round was almost a duplicate of the previous. The lads courteously touched gloves before almost every frame began and twice when Alphonse swung at or after the bell, and once when Raton threw one, they tapped gloves.

But there was no courtesy when the fighting got underway. Toe to toe, in or out, they must have swung a million punches.

Macias proved the better in close and from the seventh through the ninth built up an unofficial 3-point lead.

Halimi, a muscular, heavier puncher, began to whittle away in the next few rounds, and when his long left to the head began to connect, he closed the margin.

It was the second defeat in the 33-fight career for the little idol from Mexico.

But where it had been feared there might be trouble if Raul lost, particularly via a split decision, the crowd received the decision in typical but orderly fashion.

Prior to the fight the Mexican Consul General in Los Angeles, Adolfo Dominguez, addressed the crowd.

"Let us be good sports in defeat (loud booes) or in victory (loud cheers).

And so it was with these thousands of Mexican nationals who had traveled from as far south as Tampico, Mexico City and even Yucatan.

Line Not Helping Field Generals

QB SHORTAGE HURTS OU

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma, known for its fine quarterbacking off the split-T formation, was faced with a big problem this season—no experienced signal caller to step into the void created with the graduation of Jimmy Harris.

Harris, an all-round ball handler who was especially adept at the split-second handoffs from the T, last year directed what has been rated by many as Oklahoma's greatest team since Coach Bud Wilkinson took over as Sooner head coach in 1947.

Oklahoma is now ranked second in the nation. It will seek its 47th straight victory against Missouri at Columbia in a Big Eight Conference contest that will determine the pennant winner and the loop representative in the Orange Bowl.

But the Sooners' usually fine offensive power, both on slashing ground play and aerials off the option play, has stalled this season. This was especially noticeable in beating Colorado 14-13 and Kansas State 13-0 the last two Saturdays.

The hard-fought victories have turned the spotlight on the Sooner quarterbacking, the heart of the Oklahoma offense.

OU's coaching staff still feels that it made the right choices after mulling over the entire roster and picking two halfbacks at the start of fall practice.

Carl Dodd, a senior right half, was drafted for starting quarterback. David Baker, a junior who lettered on the alternate team as a halfback last season, moved into the alternate signal-calling spot. Although not especially outstanding on offense, they were solid defensive players.

Wilkinson says he's "very pleased" with the choices and blames the bogged down Oklahoma offense on the lack of team ability rather than any lack of quarterbacking acumen.

"As I've been trying to tell everyone all season, we're just an ordinary ball club," he said. "Our quarterbacking has been fine.

Rugged Scrimmage Slows Three Huskers

Zentic, Rhoda, Martz Shaken Up In Drills

Nebraska football coach Bill Jennings sent his Huskers through a pad-popping scrimmage in order to ready them for the single wing of Iowa State, but it may turn out to be costly experience.

Three Cornhuskers—tackle Don Rhoda, guard LeRoy Zentic and end Max Martz—were shaken up in the scrimmage and may not be up to par Saturday.

However, Jennings said Wednesday afternoon that he thought the trio would probably be able to play against the Cyclones at Ames.

The Huskers haven't faced a single-wing formation this fall, and needed heavy contact work to accustom themselves to the powerful offense, Jennings said.

Wednesday's practice was devoted to a general review of offense and defense, with a special emphasis on passing and pass defense.

Wednesday's lineup was shuffled somewhat to replace the injured gridders. Roger Brede took over at left end; Duane Mongerson ran at left tackle and Stu Howerter was at right end.

Doug Thomas, senior halfback and leading Nebraska gainer, is still nursing bruises and Carroll Zaruba ran in his left half spot.

SCOTTSBLUFF ROLLS, 65-6

SCOTTSBLUFF—Needing a win to stay in the running for the Big 10 West division title, Scottsbluff routed Alliance here Wednesday night, 65-6.

The victory set up Monday's Scottsbluff game at Kearney as the title decider. A victory will send the Bearcats into the playoff, while Kearney needs only a tie or better.

Scottsbluff jumped off to a 20-0 advantage after one quarter and coasted the rest of the way. John Williamson, with three touchdowns, led the way for the Bearcats.

Scottsbluff now has a 6-1-1 record, while Alliance is 3-4-1.

Alliance	0	0	6	0	— 6
Scottsbluff	20	14	19	12	—65

Alliance scoring—touchdown: Dick Montague (86, kickoff return).

Scottsbluff scoring—touchdowns: John Williamson 3 (19, run; 10, run; 56, run); Kent Green 2 (2, run; 50 run); John Roberts 2 (5, plunge; 75, punt return); Bill Comstock (1, plunge); Fred Wurst (30, pass from Sid Micek; Jim Pointer (31, pass from Micek). PAT: Larry Wheeler 5 (placements).

Doane Postpones Game With Peru

CRETE—Doane College Wednesday postponed its scheduled football game at Peru Friday.

Doane coach Al Papik informed Peru officials that flu had hit 29 Tiger players in the last 10 days. Fifteen have returned to classes but doctors advised them not to play football this week.

The game will be rescheduled.

I-State Wingback Out For Season

AMES (AP)—Jim Lary, wingback on the Iowa State football team, was lost for the season Wednesday when the team doctor ruled that his leg injury will not stand any further rough treatment.

Larry has a separation of the ankle and has been used in the last two games, although he has been limping on the foot.

Jack Hansen, one of three newcomers listed as probable starters against Nebraska here Saturday, will take over Lary's spot. The other two are Bill Fogarty, replacement for end Brian Dennis who has a severe charleyhorse, and Frank Powell, substitute for blocking back Marv Walter.

End Chuck Latting developed a sore throat and may be out of the Nebraska game.

The Cyclones practiced Wednesday behind closed doors and drilled extensively on the running game.

Coach Jim Myers said he expects the Cornhuskers will concentrate on stopping Dwight Nichols, Iowa State's tailback who is ranked sixth by the NCAA on offense.

"We want to have our other backs ready to give Nichols a lot of help," Myers said.

BRAVES DOMINATE AP ALL-STAR LINEUP

NEW YORK (AP) — The world champion Milwaukee Braves dominated the 1957 Associated Press major league all-star team named Wednesday in a poll of 182 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Five Braves' players—second baseman Red Schoendienst, third baseman Eddie Mathews, outfielder Hank Aaron, left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn and right-handed pitcher Lew Burdette—were selected for the squad.

The New York Yankees, who lost the Series to Milwaukee in seven games, were represented by three all-star choices—shortstop Gil McDougald, catcher Yogi Berra and outfielder Mickey Mantle.

Outfielder Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and first baseman Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals were the only non-members of pennant-winners to earn a berth on the team.

The two batting champions amassed the highest number of votes in the poll. Williams, who topped the American League in hitting with a .388 average, received 160 votes. Musial, the National League leader with .351, was named on 158 ballots.

Mathews was next in the listings with 154 votes, followed by McDougald and Mantle with 137 each, Spahn with 115 and Berra with 109.

Only Williams, Mantle, Aaron and Berra were repeaters from last year's squad.

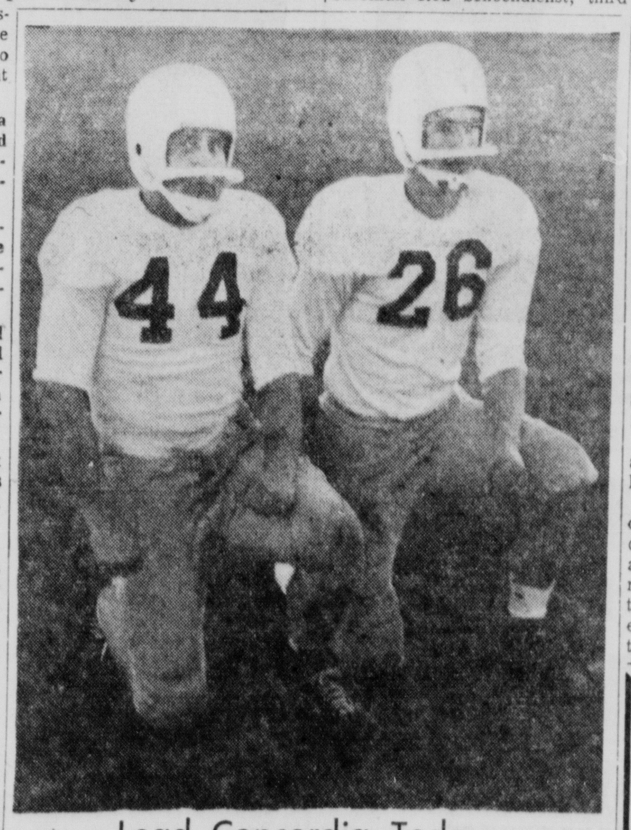
The battle for second base produced the closest voting. Schoendienst was named on 93 ballots and Fox on 86. The choice of best right-handed pitcher also was tightly contested with Burdette edging Jim Bunning of Detroit, 75 to 66.

Three other players besides Williams and Musial hit better than .300. They included Mantle at .365, Aaron .322 and Schoendienst .309. Mathews finished with a .292 average, McDougald .289 and Berra .251.

For the eighth time Spahn won 20 or more games as he compiled a 22-11 won-lost record. Burdette fashioned a 17-9 mark during the regular season and then won three games from the Yanks.

The second team (with votes in parentheses) was comprised of: First base—Gil Hodges, Dodgers (13); second base—Nellie Fox, White Sox (86); third base—Frank Malzone, Red Sox (18); shortstop—Ernie Banks, Cubs (23); outfielders—Willie Mays, Giants (83), Roy Sievers, Senators (20), Frank Robinson, Redlegs (2); catcher—Sherman Lollar, White Sox (35); left-handed pitcher—Billy Pierce, White Sox (58); right-handed pitcher—Bunning, Tigers, (66).

The Yanks' Whitey Ford was the only other southpaw pitcher named, receiving 29 votes.



Lead Concordia Today

Co-captains for Seward Concordia today in its game with David City St. Mary's will be tackle John Boll and fullback Mel Bremer. Boll was The Star's "Football Player of the Week" this week, while Bremer earned the accolade earlier in the season and has scored over 100 points this year. Boll is from Russell, N.D., while Bremer is a St. Libory, Neb., boy. Today's game will probably settle the Class C championship. (Photo special to The Star)

CAL GUARD HAD ENOUGH

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Harley Martin, standout California guard, said Wednesday he was quitting football on the advice of doctors.

Martin, 230 pounds and 6-foot-4, made the decision after undergoing hospital tests that showed he had suffered several minor concussions.

The 24-year-old junior said, "After being hit hard in a game, I black out and can't remember what has happened."

As a sophomore, Martin played tackle. He was drafted last December by the Cleveland Browns.

Pro Pacers Don't Lead In Figures

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cleveland Browns and the San Francisco 49ers are presently the top teams in the National Football League—but you can't prove it by league statistics released Wednesday.

The figures show the Baltimore Colts to have the most powerful yardage gaining combine in the league with the New York Giants, Chicago Bears, Washington Redsknis and Chicago Cardinals following in that order. Only the Giants are a contender.

Baltimore also has the best defensive record against opposing ball carriers while Cleveland leads only as the best defensive team against passing.

Baltimore's over-all record is 3-3 but they lead in yards gained with a total of 2,008—1,000 by passing and 1,008 by rushing. Its rushing record is the best in the league and amounts to a 4.3 yard gain per carry. The Chicago Bears have the best record in passing, with 1,083 yards gained.

Other total offense figures: New York Giants 1,865 yards (923 by rushing and 942 by passing), and the Chicago Bears 1,864 (781 rushing and 1,083 passing).

The Los Angeles Rams are second in rushing with 926 yards and New York is third.

San Francisco does have the best passing completing percentage, clicking on 85 of 141 tosses for a 60.3 per cent completion record. Baltimore is second with a 57.1 per cent completion record.

Baltimore also is the top scoring team with 161 points to 134 for runner-up San Francisco.

Baltimore again heads the rushing defense statistics, allowing its opponents only two yards per carry. The Bears are second with 3.1.

Cleveland's record on pass defense is slightly better than that of New York. The Browns have allowed their opponents to complete 45.5 per cent of their 99 attempted passes New York opponents have completed 46.9 per cent of their passes.

DON STEPHENSON

Georgia Tech Lineman Finds Duke Easy Prey

The Associated Press

Donald (Priestly) Stephenson, senior center for Georgia Tech, has every right to call Duke his football "cousins." For the second straight year, and almost a year to the day, he was named the lineman of the week Wednesday for his superlative play against the Blue Devils.

Last year on Nov. 8 Stephenson, a 200-pounder from Bessemer, Ala., was credited with a touchdown saving tackle as Georgia Tech beat Duke 7-0. In addition, he made numerous other tackles that thwarted Duke at every turn.

Now 22 and captain of the Yellow Jackets, Stephenson rose to even greater heights last Saturday as Georgia Tech knocked Duke out of the unbeaten ranks with an upset 13-0 victory. Playing a rover role and calling the defensive signals, he stopped the Duke offense cold. Stephenson showed an uncanny knack of being in the right place at the right time. He was credited with 10 solo tackles and was in on many others.

He played 51 minutes and motion pictures of the game afterward showed he carried out his offensive blocking assignment 51 times in 62 plays for an 82.3 percentage.

"That's fantastical," said Georgia Tech Coach Bobby Dodd. "It's one of the finest blocking jobs I have known of a center doing. He's the brains of our defensive team, too. His play and signal calling was the greatest job of stopping a good team I've seen in years."

Alex Karras, All-America Iowa tackle, was high up in the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters. He was personally selected by Bennie Oosterbaan, Michigan coach, as the best lineman in the Iowa-Michigan 21-21 game that was seen on national television.

Karras spearheaded an 8-man Iowa line which stopped Michigan with only 56 yards rushing.

Scribe Picks Mizzou To Cut Sooners' String

By DON WEISS

NEW YORK (AP) — At least eight reasons come to mind why you should never pick against Oklahoma's Sooners:

1. Bud Wilkinson. 2. The First Team. 3. The Second Team. 4. The Third Team. 5. The Fourth Team. 6. Gomer Jones. 7. They're the Yankees of College football 8. and EVERYBODY knows the Yankees never lose a big game.

So . . .

Missouri over Oklahoma — Mizzou's Frank Broyles is trying to cook up an Orange Bowl potion. It's later than they think in Soonerland and this might be the day they stretch that winning string a bit too thin.

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist—If the classy Aggies were going to lose, it would have been last week against Arkansas. They won by a point and it ought to be easier the rest of the way.

Auburn over Mississippi State—The Tigers manage a couple of points a game and with that defense, one's enough.

Ohio State over Purdue—A Rose Bowl by any name would smell as sweet and the Buckeyes have the scent.

Michigan State over Notre Dame—They're outgunned, but watch the Irish react from that shellacking from Navy.

Navy over Duke—The sleeping-giant Midshipmen no longer are dragging oars.

Tennessee over Georgia Tech—The coins says the Volunteers.

Once over lightly, section by section:

EAST—Army over Utah, Boston College over Boston Uni., Dartmouth over Columbia, Brown over Cornell, Princeton over Harvard, Rutgers over Lafayette, Lehigh over MVI, Yale over Penn, Pitt over West Virginia, Syracuse over Holy Cross.

SOUTH—Alabama over Tulane, The Citadel over Presbyterian, Clemson over Maryland, Florida over Georgia, Mississippi Southern over Houston, Mississippi over Louisiana State, North Carolina State over William & Mary, North Carolina over South Carolina, George Washington over Richmond, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest.

MIDWEST—Villanova over Detroit, Cincinnati over Indiana, Michigan over Illinois, Iowa State over Nebraska, Iowa over Minnesota, Kansas over Kansas State, Penn State over Marquette, Wisconsin over Northwestern, Oklahoma State over Wyoming, Drake over Wichita.

SOUTHWEST—Rice over Arkansas, Texas over Baylor, Arizona State at Tempe over Texas Western.

FAR WEST — Colorado over Colorado State Univ., Hardin-Simmons over Arizona, Oregon State over California, Denver over Air Force, Oregon over Washington, College of Pacific over San Jose State, Stanford over Southern California, UCLA over Washington State.

GEORGE HALAS

Boss Halas Gives Bears New Vote Of Confidence

CHICAGO (AP) — Although his defending divisional champions are tailenders in the National Football League race, owner George Halas gave his Chicago Bears a resounding vote of confidence Wednesday.

"I might trade records, but I wouldn't trade the Bear players or coaches with any other club in the league," Halas told a meeting of the Chicago Bear Quarterback Club.

Halas said he thought the Bears, with a current 2-4 record, still could retain their Western Division title by winning all remaining six games. The Bears face the Green Bacy Packers here Sunday.

Furthermore, Halas said, Western leader San Francisco (5-1) had an excellent chance of losing at least three of its next four games—against Los Angeles, Detroit, Baltimore and New York.

"If I was a betting man, I'd bet San Francisco would lose three of the four," said Papa Bear.

The way the league has been going, Halas continued, it is a wonder there now is not a 6-way tie for first place all around with each club showing 3-3 records.

Gage, Pawnee Sportsmen Give $11,000 For Lake

The State Game Commission Wednesday was in receipt of two checks totaling more than $11,000 representing the contributions of Gage and Pawnee County area residents toward acquisition of land for the proposed Burchard Lake.

The lake, with 132 surface acres of water, is planned in an area about three miles east and a mile north of Burchard.

Checks received through Game Commissioner George Pinkerton of Beatrice included one for $3,234.38, representing donations received by the Gage County Fish and Wildlife Assn., and the Beatrice Chapter of the Izaak Walton eLague; and another for $8,228.61 representing donations obtained by the Pawnee County Wildlife Assn.

Federal funds are available for the land acquisition but each three dollars of federal money must be matched with one dollar of local money. In this case, the state or local portion is estimated at $21,500. The more than $11,000 already contributed will be augmented by state funds to make the $21,500, State Game Commission Director Mel Steen said.

The Commission has options on 400 acres of land for the project and holds title to 160 acres. There is a possibility, Steen said, that construction may start next year.

COACH SHY OF FRIENDS

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Coach Edwin J. Merrick has been the subject of many jibes in recent weeks because of Richmond's losing football season.

Saturday he became a father for the third time as his team was losing its fifth straight game. Belatedly, he realized he hadn't passed out cigars to celebrate the birth of the new daughter, Lynn, and ordered a large box from his close friend, Lou Byram.

"Don't get that big box," suggested Byram. "Get a smaller box. You don't have that many friends."

Cadet Swimmer Dies

WEST POINT, N.Y. (INS)—The U. S. Military Academy announced that Cadet Harry E. Lardin Jr. of El Paso, Tex., died of a heart attack during a practice session of the Army swimming team.

The 20-year-old swimmer was the son of Col. and Mrs. Harry E. Lardin, presently stationed with the Army in Germany.

Nebraska Deer Kill Is All-Time Record

Nebraska hunters, with the season not yet altogether ended, have shot 7,875 deer in Nebraska this year for an all time record high, the State Game Commission reported Wednesday.

The total tops by 20 per cent the previous high of 6,561 deer shot by rifle last year.

The deer season ended Tuesday night in all areas except the Pine Ridge area, where more than 4,000 deer already have been taken and where the season runs through Nov. 11.

A success mark of 68 per cent was scored in the Upper Platte, Plains, Sandhills, Upper Missouri, Elkhorn and Halsey areas where the season ended Tuesday. A total of 3,606 deer were taken.

In the Pine Ridge area where the current season is the second of the year, 1,349 animals have been bagged during the current Nov. 1-11 season, out of a possible 3,195. The 42 per cent success mark was termed "extremely good" by a game commission spokesman in the light of the killing of 2,920 deer in the same area during the earlier season.

Game Commission Director Mel Steen said co-operation between landowners and deer hunters this year has been "wonderful," particularly in the Pine Ridge area where farmers, ranchers and townspeople went to great lengths to help hunters bag their game.

Checking stations in the areas where hunting ended Tuesday night, and the number of deer checked through them, include:

Kimball 142, Hyannis 32, Hemingford 80, Oshkosh 179, Alliance 127, Bridgeport 315, Gering 534, Sidney 162, Chappell 58, Mullen 83, Cody 183, Burwell 129, Butte 43, Valentine 415, Halsey 210, O'Neill 53, Ainsworth 330, Springview 132, Bassett 283, Center 37, Neligh 24, Hartington 10, South Sioux City 16, Wisner 2, Ponca 10 and Norfolk 17.

The checking station count in the Pine Ridge area through the first five days of the current 11 day season includes Fort Robinson 156, Crawford 491, Harrison 165, Chadron 310 and Rushville 227.

NEW TRIBE BOSS TO BE NAMED SOON

CLEVELAND (AP)—The board of directors of the Cleveland Indians will meet next Tuesday to name a successor to General Manager Hank Greenberg.

Greenberg, a member of the 13-man board and holder of 19 per cent of the club's stock, is expected to attend the meeting. The board last Oct. 16 voted against renewing Greenberg's contract.

William R. Daley, chairman of the board, met Wednesday with Tribe President Myron H. Wilson and Vice President Nate Dolin. He said the three executive committee members discussed "more than one candidate" for the general manager's job.

Most prominently mentioned to succeed Greenberg is William O. "Bill" DeWitt, former general manager of the St. Louis Browns.

Members of the Indians' executive committee interviewed DeWitt last week. Asked if any other candidates would be interviewed before Tuesday, Daley said:

"I assume we will talk to more than one. I can't comment further."

Akins Claims Welter Crown

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Virgil Akins of St. Louis has replied to a request that he participate in a tournament for a new welterweight champion with the statement that he is the champion of the 147-pound division.

The request came in a telegram from Julius Helfand, chairman of the World Boxing Committee. Akins wired this statement to Helfand:

Harrison Rumor Tabbed As False

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—State Republican Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr. labels "completely false rumors that the Nebraska Central Committee was in search for another candidate to replace R. D. Harrison of Norfolk" who represents the Third Nebraska District in Congress.

Here to confer with Republican leaders, Spelts said of Harrison:

"He has the complete backing and confidence of the Republican party which is backing him to the hilt.

"Bob was almost victim of drought and poor crops last year, but we expect him to carry this district by a convincing margin in 1958."

Mishap Kills Alma Farmer

ALMA, Neb.—Funeral services for Ralph R. Seyler, 50, Alma farmer fatally injured in an accident at his farm home, will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Congregational Church in Alma.

A native of Harlan County, Mr. Seyler was a prominent farmer and widely known cattle raiser. He was a World War II veteran.

The accident that took his life occurred when he was working with a field cutter at his farm and caught his arm in the machine.

Surviving are his wife, Grace; a daughter, Mrs. Darrold Graham, who lives in California; three stepchildren, Myron, Ronald and Donna; his father, Gotthold Seyler; and three brothers and sisters.

New Board Members

HERSHEY, Neb. (AP)—Two new school board members have been appointed at Hershey, where the school district was expanded this year. George Koch and Floyd Pinion, Hershey farmers, were named to the board. They succeed Charles Arnett and George Olson, who resigned last month to make way for the appointments and provide wider representation on the board.

Turkey Grower Beginner Has Very Good Year

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)—After a full growing season, Ronnie Lyon ended up with more turkeys than he ordered in the first place.

Ronnie, 15, is just a beginner in the turkey growing business.

A member of the Center Beefers 4-H Club he has had calves or lambs as his 4-H projects in previous years.

This year he decided to try turkeys. He ordered 200 day-old poults last spring. He got six more than he ordered. Since only four were lost during the season, he ended up with two more than he had originally ordered.

Ronnie has sold about 60 of the turkeys. The 140 left average 25 to 30 pounds for the toms and 17 for the hens.

Weather Ahead

The five-day forecast issued by the Weather Bureau calls for no precipitation of consequence and for temperatures averaging near normal over Nebraska. Normal maximums range from the low to middle 50s and normal minimums from the mid-20s to the low 30s.

State's Internal Revenue Collections Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Internal Revenue collected $308,256,000 in individual income and employment taxes in Nebraska during the fiscal year ended June 30.

The collections were part of total internal revenue collections of $431,518,000 in Nebraska and $80,200,000,000 nationally. The total collection in Nebraska the previous year was $423,246,000.

Withheld income tax and old-age insurance in Nebraska amounted to $190,941,000, railroad retirement funds $24,094,000 and unemployment insurance $1,815,000.

Other collections in Nebraska for the 1957 fiscal year included:

Estate taxes, $6,000,000; gift taxes, $306,000; alcohol taxes, $9,029,000.

Vosoba Files For Legislative Post

WILBER, Neb.—Joe T. Vosoba, Wilber attorney, Wednesday filed for election to the Nebraska Legislature from the 23rd District, composed of Saline and Fillmore Counties.

Vosoba

Vosoba, who was born on a farm in Saline County, was reared in Milligan and graduated from the Milligan High School.

While attending the University of Nebraska he worked as a reporter and photographer for The Lincoln Star for six years. After graduating from the NU College of Law, he served two years in the U.S. Army, and in 1954, became a member of the law firm of Steinacher & Vosoba at Wilber. Since 1954 he has also been deputy county attorney of Saline County.

His wife is the former Kathryn Danley of DeWitt.

Now serving as senator from the 23rd district is Mervin Bedford of Geneva. He has not as yet filed for re-election.

Many Areas May Get Moisture

Snow flurries in extreme northern New England, the upper Great Lakes and central Rockies, and rain or drizzle in the Tennessee and central Mississippi valleys, the lower Great Lakes region and northern Pacific Coast are in the precipitation picture for Thursday. It will be warmer in the Ohio valley, middle Atlantic states and Pacific coast, and cooler in the northern tier of states from the Lakes to the Dakotas. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Damages Denied In Accident Suit

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—District Judge Virgil Falloon directed a verdict for the defendants, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lewis of Shubert, in a $100,000 damage action growing out of an auto accident in which five persons were killed.

The plaintiff was William D. McAlexander of Granger, Wash., as administer of the estate of the late William R. Banner, one of the accident victims. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are the parents of Darrell Lewis, another of the victims.

The other fatalities, passengers in the Banner car, were Mrs. Banner and Mr. and Mrs. George T. Fry, Huntington, Tenn.

The only survivors of the tragedy were the Banner children, Judy Ann, 7, and Michael Ray, 5, now of Granger, Wash., who were in court but were not allowed to testify.

The accident occurred on Highway 67, south of Shubert, March 18, 1954, when the Lewis and Banner cars collided headon.

Paddling Quartet Nears Destination

MILLINOCKET, Maine (AP)—Four bearded adventurers paddling two canoes from Denver, Colo., to Old Town, enjoyed a taste of the civilized kind of life they have temporarily abandoned.

Brought to this paper mill town overland from a camp in the wilderness, the quartet attended a ladies night dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, slept between sheets in a hotel and returned to their paddles Wednesday.

Nebraska News

Now on the last leg of a 5,000 mile trip through rugged inland waterways, the modern voyageurs will get a rousing official welcome when they return to Millinocket in their canoes Thursday. The canoeists crossed Nebraska via the Platte and Missouri rivers.

Fire sirens will signal the appearance of their canoes on the west branch of the Penobscot River. The Stearns High School band will head a parade through the principal streets.

The canoeists, who expect to reach their destination Monday, are writer Earl Rickers, 29, of Chester, Calif.; ski instructors Ed Vestal, 29, and Bengt Soderstorm, 32, both of Aspen, Colo., and Gerald Hewey, 27, of Cape Elizabeth, who runs a ski lodge at Aspen.

Meanwhile at Portland, H. Goodrich Hewey Jr., who taught his son to handle a canoe on Casco Bay, underwent major chest surgery at the Maine medical center.

Relatives said Gerald did not know about his father's operation.

Druggists Protest Relief Bill Slash

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Sidney druggists have protested to the county commissioners the county board's action in arbitrarily cutting drug bills for relief cases by 20 per cent.

Commissioner George Fleming said the board did not feel that druggists "should make a profit on welfare cases."

The druggists assert their profit margin is far from being 20 per cent.

The board has not taken any action to rescind its payment-cutting directive.

Outside Help Favored For Local Schools

BEATRICE, Neb. (AP)—A big part of those attending District One School Board Assn. meeting here believe that local schools in the state have needs that can't be met without outside assistance.

About 50 persons attended a meeting here. The vote was 35-3 in favor of the outside assistance position. The question was part of an opinion poll being taken at all district meetings.

By a 28-7 vote the meeting favored a combination sales-income tax to replace the state property tax.

Religious Meet Set For Holdrege

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — Three hundred Christian workers and Sunday school leaders are expected at the annual Nebraska Christian Workers conference of the Evangelical Free Church of America on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8 and 9 in Holdrege.

The conference will be held at the Trinity Evangelical Free church. The Rev. Willard J. Eckman is pastor.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Robert Cook, vice president of the Scripture Press, Wheaton, Ill. Dr. Cook is a former president of Youth for Christ, and is a writer and world traveler.

Final meeting of the annual banquet will be Saturday evening at 6:30 with Dr. Cook as speaker.

Khrushchev, Mao Predict Red Victory And Proclaim Desire For Peace

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev and Mao Tze-tung, the two top men in world Communism, made a double-barreled attack Wednesday on the United States, gibing at its lag on launching Sputniks and accusing it of plotting trouble all over the world.

Khrushchev, the Soviet party boss, and Mao, the master of Red China, spoke from the same platform before 17,000 delegates here from 60 nations to mark the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Both predicted an inevitable victory of Communism over capitalism. Both proclaimed a desire for world peace.

Khrushchev proposed a world summit conference to rule out the possibility of another big war. He said the enormous devastation of such a war would be the death of capitalism and he made a plea for an understanding especially with the United States on disarmament.

Own Game

He predicted the Soviet Union would beat the United States at its own game and surpass it in industrial production in 15 years. He again charged that the United States was inciting Turkey and Israel to attack Syria.

Mao, who received a huge ovation, praised Soviet "firsts", including the earth satellites, and hailed as wise the political measures of the Soviet Communist party from the de-Stalinization program down to the ouster of Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

Khrushchev's three-hour speech was filled with taunts at the United States.

The launching of Sputnik I and of Sputnik II, he said, "struck fear and confusion into the camp of the enemies of Communism".

The United States had named its earth satellite project Vanguard expecting it would be first, he said, but "our Sputniks are going around and round the world waiting for the American Sputniks to come up and join them."

'Pretending'

And now, he added, the Americans are pretending they never were in a race with the Soviet Union.

The audience roared with laughter when he suggested that the Americans hurry up so there could be a "commonwealth of Sputniks."

"Such a commonwealth, such a competition would be much better than competition in the race to manufacture death-producing weapons," he declared.

Calling the two satellites "new stars of the universe, heralds of progress, heralds of the triumph of Soviet science and technology," the Soviet party chief said:

"Our people never have thought and do not think to use any means of destruction if our country is not subjected to attack by imperialist states."

"A new war would produce enormous devastation," he said. "We are convinced that as a result of a new war, the capitalist order will perish. However, we Communists are not striving to victory by such a path."

'Disarmament'

Russia, he continued, wants "mutually acceptable agreements with the West on all questions of disarmament," and the chances of preventing war would be greatly increased "if all states, and especially the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A., the states with the greatest economic and military resources, reach agreement on disarmament."

As for an East-West summit meeting, he said:

"We should like to have a high level meeting of representatives of capitalist and Socialist countries so as to reach agreement on excluding war as a means of solving political questions."

Conceding that Russia trails the United States in some fields of industrial production, he said the goal of surpassing the United States "is no longer something unattainable as it would have appeared in the past."

Wednesday night Moscow was a blaze of lights amid final preparations for the military and civilian parade in Red Square Thursday.

Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky will take the salute in the place of Zhukov. If rehearsals are a guide, the military parade will feature rockets and missiles. Hooded, tank-type carriers have been seen which appeared to be carrying missiles or rockets up to 80 feet long.

Clearly Visible

LONDON (AP)—Sputnik II was clearly visible as it passed over Britain in broad daylight.

Field workers near Cambridge watched it for four minutes.

Troops At Little Rock To Be Reduced By Half

Army Announcement Follows Election Of Moderate City Government

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Army Wednesday announced it would remove half the federal troops and National Guardsmen enforcing school integration here.

The announcement came a few hours after Little Rock voters had narrowly rejected a pro-segregation city government.

There was no indication that the voting influenced the Army's decision to make its second troop reduction, but it was announced just a few hours after a moderate group known as the Good Government Committee candidates won control of the city government.

The Army said its decision to pull out about 275 of its 500 regulars and defederalize about 900 of 1,800 guardsmen will be carried out forthwith because of "the steady improvement in community stability."

Gov. Orval Faubus, who maintains Little Rock will remain "an occupied city as long as one federal soldier remains," commented:

"They ought to go ahead and remove the rest of them. I think they would have long before now if they had had a graceful way to do it."

Integration at Central High School is in its seventh week. In recent weeks no incidents of import have occurred and the nine Negro students enrolled now go to and from school unguarded.

After a close race, the Good Government candidates won six of seven places in city balloting for a board of directors.

One Good Government candidate said the surprisingly strong opposition vote was in his opinion an endorsement of Gov. Faubus' stand against integration.

Refund Inquiries Sent To Omaha

William B. Rumbolz, group supervisor of the Lincoln Internal Revenue Service, said inquiries about income tax refunds are being referred to the Omaha office, since Lincoln is only a branch office.

Following the publishing in The Star of a list of more than 800 Nebraskans eligible for refunds, Rumbolz said his secretary had reported receiving about five calls each day about them.

Names on the list were those of taxpayers whose present addresses are not known by the Revenue Service. Refunds cover the years 1954-55-56.

President Works With Diplomatic-Scientific Advisers On Speech

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower worked with military diplomatic and scientific advisers Wednesday on the momentous space-age message he is to deliver to the nation by radio and television Thursday night.

The chief executive speaks over all major networks at 7 p.m. (CST). He is expected to rally the free world for a long-haul drive to wrest technological supremacy from Russia in the fateful race for mastery of outer space.

The White House said the President's address was timed to coincide with Soviet celebration of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution. The Kremlin is believed ready to mark the Nov. 7 holiday with disclosure of spectacular new achievements.

Mr. Eisenhower, returned to office just a year ago by an overwhelming vote of confidence, will stake his enormous personal prestige as a military hero and statesman on his "chins up" call to a nation gravely concerned over Russia's earth satellites and intercontinental missiles.

Administration spokesmen said the President is prepared to couple heartening revelation of hitherto secret U.S. progress in superweapons with an urgent plea for a calm but bold and imaginative effort to close the gap dramatized by Russia's dog-carrying satellite, Sputnik II.

Mr. Eisenhower also is expected to reply at least indirectly to Soviet communist boss Nikita Khrushchev's bid for an East-West summit parley to end threats of a catastrophic war.

Khrushchev, riding high after ousting the President's wartime friend ex-Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov, urged the U.S. and other nations to join Russia in a "commonwealth of Sputniks" instead of competing in production of "death-producing weapons."

The chief executive, as he toiled on his speech, was in touch with latest intelligence reports on the "surprises" — including missiles and rocket launchers—to be unveiled in Moscow on Revolution Day.

White House aides pointed out that Mr. Eisenhower will be in a position to appraise for the American people the significance not only of the Sputniks but of any other fantastic devices the Soviets may bare.

The President's address comes amid mounting congressional ire over what legislators call administration "complacency" and on the heels of an announcement that the Senate Preparedness subcommittee will open a "searching inquiry" into the U.S. rocket program later this month.

Acting White House news Secretary Anne Wheaton denied that the chief executive's radio-TV address was scheduled as a result of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson's announcement of the preparedness probe.

Mrs. Wheaton said: "The President wanted to talk directly to the people and inform them on this whole field of science relating to national security."

The speech was moved up from Nov. 13, the date on which Mr. Eisenhower was scheduled to open at Oklahoma City his assault on what he has called the forces of "morbid pessimism" unleashed by Russia's satellite and missile strides.

The President still plans to go to Oklahoma City, but his speech there will be altered to become a hard-hitting follow-up of his Thursday night rallying call.

U.S. earth satellite experts met in secret session Wednesday but declined to make public any details of the conference.

Dr. Richard F. Porter headed the team of specialists who conferred behind closed doors at the National Science Foundation. Porter indicated the meeting was routine in nature. He declined to give any detail.

Asked whether Russia's satellite program was discussed, he replied: "Not specifically." Asked whether the meeting had any relation to President Eisenhower's speech Thursday night, Porter replied, "Not specifically, I don't even know if it was mentioned."

A newsman inquired when the U.S. will launch its own satellite. Porter, who heads the technical panel of the U.S.-IGY satellite program replied:

"Read President Eisenhower's statement that we will launch a satellite in December and March. I guess you could take that as gospel."

President Eisenhower has announced four small test satellites would be launched beginning in December with fully-instrumented 20-inch, 20-pound moons set to go up next March.

Vertical Take-Off Airliner Is Tested

LONDON (AP)—A plane described by its builders as the world's first vertical take-off airliner made its first flight Wednesday.

The Fairey Aviation Co., said the flight was entirely satisfactory.

The plane, known as the Rotodyne, ascends vertically by means of a 90-foot rotor mounted above the wings and driven by jet pressure units mounted in the tip of each of its four blades.

Two turbo-prop engines take over to drive the airliner forward once it's in the air. It carries 43 passengers and travels at 200 miles an hour.

Second Fall Jury Term Set Nov. 18

The second Lancaster District Court jury term this fall and the sixth this year has been called for Nov. 18.

The usual 120 prospective jurors were notified by registered mail posted Wednesday night. About 70 will probably be chosen for jury duty.

The last two-week jury term ended Oct. 28, and previous ones this year were in February, March and April (two). Docket call day for the coming term will be this Saturday.

Three felony and six misdemeanor cases are scheduled for the term, according to the County Attorney's office.

The Felony Cases

Felony cases are Marshall Potter of Lincoln, charged with statutory rape and also with fondling a minor; Twila Horn Spencer Lauer of Crete, charged with forgery; and Joseph B. Maranville of Lincoln, charged with shooting with intent to kill, wound or maim.

Maranville, 64, is charged in connection with the shooting of Forest A. Beetem, 59, of Lincoln last June 8 at the State Fair Grounds where both were employed as horse trainers. Beetem was wounded in the stomach by a .25 caliber pistol bullet but has since been released from the hospital.

Persons charged with misdemeanors include John David Provoo, former Army sergeant once convicted of treason but later freed by the U.S. Supreme Court. Provoo is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, in connection with his conduct with a 17-year-old Annapolis, Md., boy.

Provoo and the boy were arrested in a downtown Lincoln rooming house in September after they had been the subject of a nation-wide search instigated by the youth's parents. Provoo was found guilty of the contributing charge in County Court but appealed the conviction.

Salvation Army Home League To Mark 50th Year

The Salvation Army Home League will celebrate its 50th anniversary locally with a "homecoming" meeting 1 p.m. Thursday at the Salvation Army building.

Mrs. Captain Catherine Johnson, who announced the meeting, said the featured speaker would be Mrs. Senior Major Paul Robb, divisional Home League secretary, from Omaha. Mrs. Robb's topic, according to Mrs. Johnson, will be "The Origin of The Home League".

The "homecoming" theme of the meeting will be carried out with the reading of letters received from former presidents and members of the Lincoln organization, Mrs. Johnson said.

Roderick Hall Dies At Age 72

Roderick J. Hall, 72, of 2801 No. 26th, died Wednesday.

Born in Russell, Kan., he had been employed by the Missouri Pacific Railroad for 44 years. He had been roundhouse foreman in Lincoln for 18 years.

Surviving are his wife, Catherine; daughters, Mrs. Charlotte Connor of Alamosa, Colo., and Mrs. Irene Cassner of Lincoln; sister, Mrs. Ruth Anderson of Stockton, Mo.; and stepsons, Shirley M. White of White Deer, Tex., Clifford E. White of Pueblo, Colo., Floyd White of Lincoln and Foster M. White of Pampa, Tex.; and 12 grandchildren.

Not Guilty Plea Made By Inmate

John J. O'Rourke, 25, of Chicago, pleaded innocent to an "escape from prison" charge Wednesday in Lancaster County Court.

A preliminary hearing to determine if there is sufficient evidence to bind him over to Lancaster District Court on the charge was set for Nov. 23. O'Rourke was returned to the State Penitentiary after the arraignment.

O'Rourke reportedly forged a gate pass and escaped from the Penitentiary Nov. 1. He was captured about six hours later by an Iowa Highway Patrolman near Oakland, Ia. O'Rourke had been sentenced to the Penitentiary in September on a robbery charge from Dawson County.

He had been sentenced to 10 years for the offense, which involved the robbing of an airman at gun-point and then taking his car. O'Rourke was later stopped at a roadblock after Safety Patrolmen shot out the rear tire of his car.

Jewish Liberal Religious Group Meets Thursday

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some 1,000 delegates convene Thursday for the 17th annual biennial convention of the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods, Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

The parent body represents 550 reform temples in the U.S. and Canada with over a million worshippers of liberal Judaism. The convention will present a two-year program to strengthen American Reform Judaism. The convention runs through Sunday.

Speakers will include Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY); Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations; J. Robert Arkush of Los Angeles, chancellor of the Jewish Chautauqua Society, and others.

McDonald Takes Development Post At Doane College

CRETE, Neb. — Dr. L. E. McDonald, Montgomery, Ala., has been named vice president for development at Doane College. His appointment was approved by the board of trustees at the mid-year meeting.

McDonald

In his new post, Dr. McDonald will be concerned chiefly with the development and conduct of programs designed to strengthen financial support given Doane by the Crete community, the Congregational-Christian churches of the states and by the college alumni.

He is assuming his duties immediately, having resigned as an educational advisor to the U.S. Air Force Air University, Montgomery, Ala., where he has been employed since January 1950.

His appointment to the staff at Doane as vice president for development marks Dr. McDonald's second assignment here. He was an instructor in mathematics and veterans advisor during the 1947-48 school year.

Dr. McDonald holds a bachelor of science degree in engineering and master's degree in guidance and counseling from Colorado A. & M. College. He also has his degree from the University of Colorado in administration and guidance.

He has taught in Colorado high schools, at Colorado State College, and at Doane before becoming an Air Force educational advisor. During World War II he served in the Army where he rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Industrial Accident Record Improves

Industrial accidents in Nebraska totaled 35,510, a drop of 2,000 from the previous year, and fatalities decreased from 86 to 68, according to the annual report of the state Workmen's Compensation Court.

The report, covering the year which ended June 30, said compensation benefits totaled $3,944,344, down about $122,400 from the previous year.

Presiding Judge Albert Arms said the improvement in industrial safety may be attributed, in part, to a decrease in construction work during the year and to increased emphasis on accident prevention.

Highway 97 Work Isn't Slated Now

State Engineer L. N. Ress had little encouragement for a delegation from North Platte and Tryon which asked for dustless surfacing of a 7½-mile gravel stretch on Highway 97 northwest of North Platte.

Ress said the state is working only on projects in the "critical needs" category and the Highway 97 project is not included, although he pointed out that changes in maintenance costs and traffic volumes could change the sufficiency rating of the stretch.

In the delegation were George Cooper, Cecil Craft and Wesley F. Hansen of North Platte and Ray Kemp, Harold Neal, Arthur M. French and Russell C. Conroy of Tryon.

MOST LINCOLN SCHOOLS REPORT LESS FLU

The incidence of flu continued to fall in most Lincoln public and parochial schools Wednesday.

Overall public school absences were reported at 15.4 per cent Wednesday, down from 16.51 per cent Tuesday. A total of 3,328 students were absent Wednesday.

Nine elementary schools still were reporting absences over 20 per cent, but only Norwood Park had more than 30 per cent absenteeism.

Sixty-two public school faculty members were absent Wednesday, compared to 75 on Tuesday.

Declining Rate

Five Catholic schools—Holy Family, Cathedral, Pius X, Blessed Sacrament and St. Patrick's—reported a declining rate of absenteeism Wednesday. Two Lutheran schools, Trinity and Calvary, reported drops.

A check of Lincoln business firms revealed only two in which employe absenteeism went up slightly. Four other largs firms reported no change or a decrease in the number of absences.

Six more counties reported to the State Health Department on their flu situation Wednesday. Reporting epidemics of influenza-like illnesses were Hamilton, Dakota, Keith, McPherson and Morrill.

Garfield County also reported some incidence of flu, but no schools closed. All others except Keith reported an average of two to three schools closed three to four days.

This brings to 21 the number of Nebraska counties reportitg 10 per cent or more flu incidence.

Flu prompted closing of schools in three southwest Nebraska communities for the rest of the week.

Cambridge schools were closed Wednesday after absences reached nearly 33 per cent. Trenton and Indianola schools also have been closed.

At McCook, public school absenteeism has been tapering off, although in the junior college there were more than 80 students—about 31 per cent—missing Wednesday.

Colds, Not Flu

At Holdrege, school attendance was reporting improving, with many absences said to be due to bad colds rather than flu.

The Sioux Ordnance Depot Schools at Sidney, closed last Friday because of illness among half its student body and one-third of its faculty, will remain closed all this week.

Originally it had been planned to reopen the school Wednesday, but sickness had not abated among students.

LESTER ANDERSON STILL MAY FILE AS CONGRESS CANDIDATE

Lester Anderson of Aurora, said Wednesday he is "still considering" becoming a candidate for the Republican nomination of Third District Congressman in next year's May primary election.

The former state senator has just returned to Nebraska from a seven-week tour of Europe, and said he wanted to "visit around for awhile" before reaching a decision on his political plans.

Anderson said there is a "possibility" that he might "consider" running for some other office, but declined to specify what it might be.

The Third District seat is now held by Republican Robert Harrison of Norfolk who is expected to file for re-election.

Merle Haynes of South Sioux City, filed as a Republican candidate for the post early this year.

No Democrats have yet filed for the office, but Lawrence Brock of Wakefield is considered the most likely candidate. Brock nearly defeated Harrison in a nip-and-tuck battle for the seat in the 1956 election.

Aircraft, Rocket Fuel, Missiles, Pace Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Once again aircraft, missile and rocket fuel shares raced ahead in the stock market, carrying other issues up with them, but gains by many of the latter were canceled before the close Wednesday.

Key stocks advanced from 1 to 4 points or more. Most losses among pivotal issues were fractional.

The Wall Street conviction that the United States must build-up its defense spending to counter Russian achievements was stressed Wednesday by President Eisenhower's sudden decision to speak Thursday night on "Science and Security" instead of waiting until next week.

The extent of Wednesday's field day enjoyed by aircraft and related shares was demonstrated by the fact that no less than 12 of the 15 most active stocks were in this category or tied closely to it.

There was other news to feed bullish sentiment. Retail sales on election day were reported record-breaking. The Democratic successes were regarded in financial quarters as a strong hint to the administration that it should beef-up its spending and ease tight money.

Steels, nonferrous metals, oils, chemicals and some leading rails rode the bandwagon early in the day but a number of the gainers suffered losses on profit-taking in the afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $156.10 with the industrials up 90 cents, the rails up 20 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Of 1,188 issues traded, gains totaled 550 and losses 383. There were 64 new lows for the year and 4 new highs.

Prices also were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 710,000 shares compared with 730,000 on Monday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Corporate bonds closed steady on balance Wednesday while U.S. government bonds were up as much as half a point on fair volume.

Some traders attributed buoyancy in the government market to Democratic election victories. They said traditionally Democrats have been for easier money and they felt the Democratic successes at the polls may prod the Eisenhower Administration in to relaxing curbs on credit.

In the corporate list investment quality issues and utilities advanced while rails and industrials edged lower. Trading increased to $5,800,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $4,790,000 Monday.

Grain Futures Close Uneven

CHICAGO (AP) — Profit-taking and hedge selling trimmed early advances in grain futures Wednesday and the markets ended irregular.

Political developments and improved demand for wheat and soybeans were responsible for gains of a cent or more in those futures at the outset of trading. The advance attracted profit-taking late in the session and prices fell back from the day's highest levels.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ½ higher, corn ⅜ to ⅝ lower, oats ⅛ lower to ½ higher, rye ¾ lower to ¾ higher, soybeans unchanged to ⅛ lower, and lard ended 5 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Democratic victories in Tuesday's off-year elections were partly credited for advances at the start. Some brokers expressed the opinion that bullish sentiment could be stirred as a result of the elections.

They pointed out that the grain trade historically is conditioned to look to the Democrats for higher support prices and easier money, factors which lend themselves to a bullish grain trade.

Wheat futures were in demand by flour mills, reflecting improvement in domestic flour sales.

Cash wheat prices remained firm. Rye futures followed the trend in wheat.

A forecast for clear weather over the rain-sodden corn and soybean belt prompted selling of corn and bean futures late in the session.

Air Guard Officials Think Their Bid For NAS Facilities Has Good Chance

National Guard officials are optimistic that their request to take over Lincoln Naval Air Station facilities for use of the Air National Guard has a good chance for approval.

Gen. Guy N. Henninger, Nebraska adjutant, has requested transfer of the property after the Navy disestablishes its units at the Lincoln Air Force Base location early in 1958.

He said negotiations will have to be carried on by the Air Force chief of staff with top Navy officials and will "probably take several months."

No Funds

Transfer of the new hangar and operational buildings to the Air National Guard would not involve purchase or transfer of funds, Henninger explained, but would simply require a license for operation of the facilities.

Additional operational funds would have to be allocated to the NANG, he said, before the transfer could be made.

Henninger said it would cost "some more" to operate the NAS facilities, but "we don't know how much."

He said the Air Guard's present operating costs are "about $20,000 a year."

'Jammed In'

Gen. Henninger said the NANG is "jammed in our present facilities" which are adjacent to the NAS site.

Additional operational buildings had been scheduled for construction during the next fiscal year to relieve crowding of the Air Guard, he said.

The additional facilities would not mean an increase in the number of trainees, he explained, because the units are at their full capacity of 700 men.

But the 90 permanent personnel at the Air Guard station would have to be increased by an estimated five to 10 men if the new facilities are granted, he added.

No other military group has expressed interest in using the Naval Air Station facilities.

Fuel Storage

Gen. Henninger said he hopes the Lincoln NANG will be granted operation of fuel storage facilities used jointly by the NAS and NANG. The Navy has announced that the fuel farm would be closed down by Dec. 15.

Capt. Bill Miles, commander of the Lincoln NAS, announced that all reserve units will be decommissioned Nov. 17.

Flight operations at the base have been discontinued, with all men assigned to preparing for the Feb. 1 disestablishment of the station.

Legal Authorities Say Reds Could Claim The Moon

CHICAGO (INS)—Two international legal authorities warned Wednesday Russia could conceivably take out sole claim to the moon.

The law experts—Andrew G. Haley, a Washington, D.C. attorney, and Welf Heinrich, prince of Hanover who wrote his doctorate on space law in 1953 at the University of Goettingen—gave their views in a news conference at the University of Chicago.

"There is, of course, no law at this time regarding the claiming of the moon," explained Haley, "but by analogy there is precedent in international law which could bring this about."

The provisions the Soviet spacemen would have to fill in order to set up territorial claims would be:

The traditional act of landing first; circumnavigating the moon—the dark side of which has never been seen by man; mapping the moon, and setting up permanent colonies.
